Sanyog Gupta Voyages

Luxury Destination Management Company

As we have evolved as a company, we have come to realise that our love lies not in booking tour packages, but in showcasing the unique experiences across the nations we serve. We realised that there are many secret corners of our world, rare moments, mysteries and stories.

Our company owned by a family, but run professionally. We have hierarchical systems which are driven by our core family values. We have come to understand we do not want to be the largest company globally. We have never tried to be the richest or the most influential. I say, we just want to be the bestest in what we do.

We are a family tradition for over three decades that have been highlighting this part of the planet. All over Indian sub-continent, we have grown to become a popular, valued and autonomous DMC providing the finest cultural experiences, personal immersions and natural wonders. We are here to build stories for our clients, tales of love, of wonderful excitement. We are proud of our past and its legacy.

THIS IS THE TIME
THIS IS THE PLACE
THIS IS LADAKH

LADAKH

The Land of High Passes, Ladakh, boasts a landscape that can leave you with your jaws dropped. It is a place where the landscape changes dramatically; it is truly astonishing to see the mountains, snow, cold desert, alpine meadows and lakes at a short distance from each other. Tourism in Ladakh is an absolute delight for nature lovers as well as adventurers.

IT ALL STARTS WITH JULLEY JULLEY

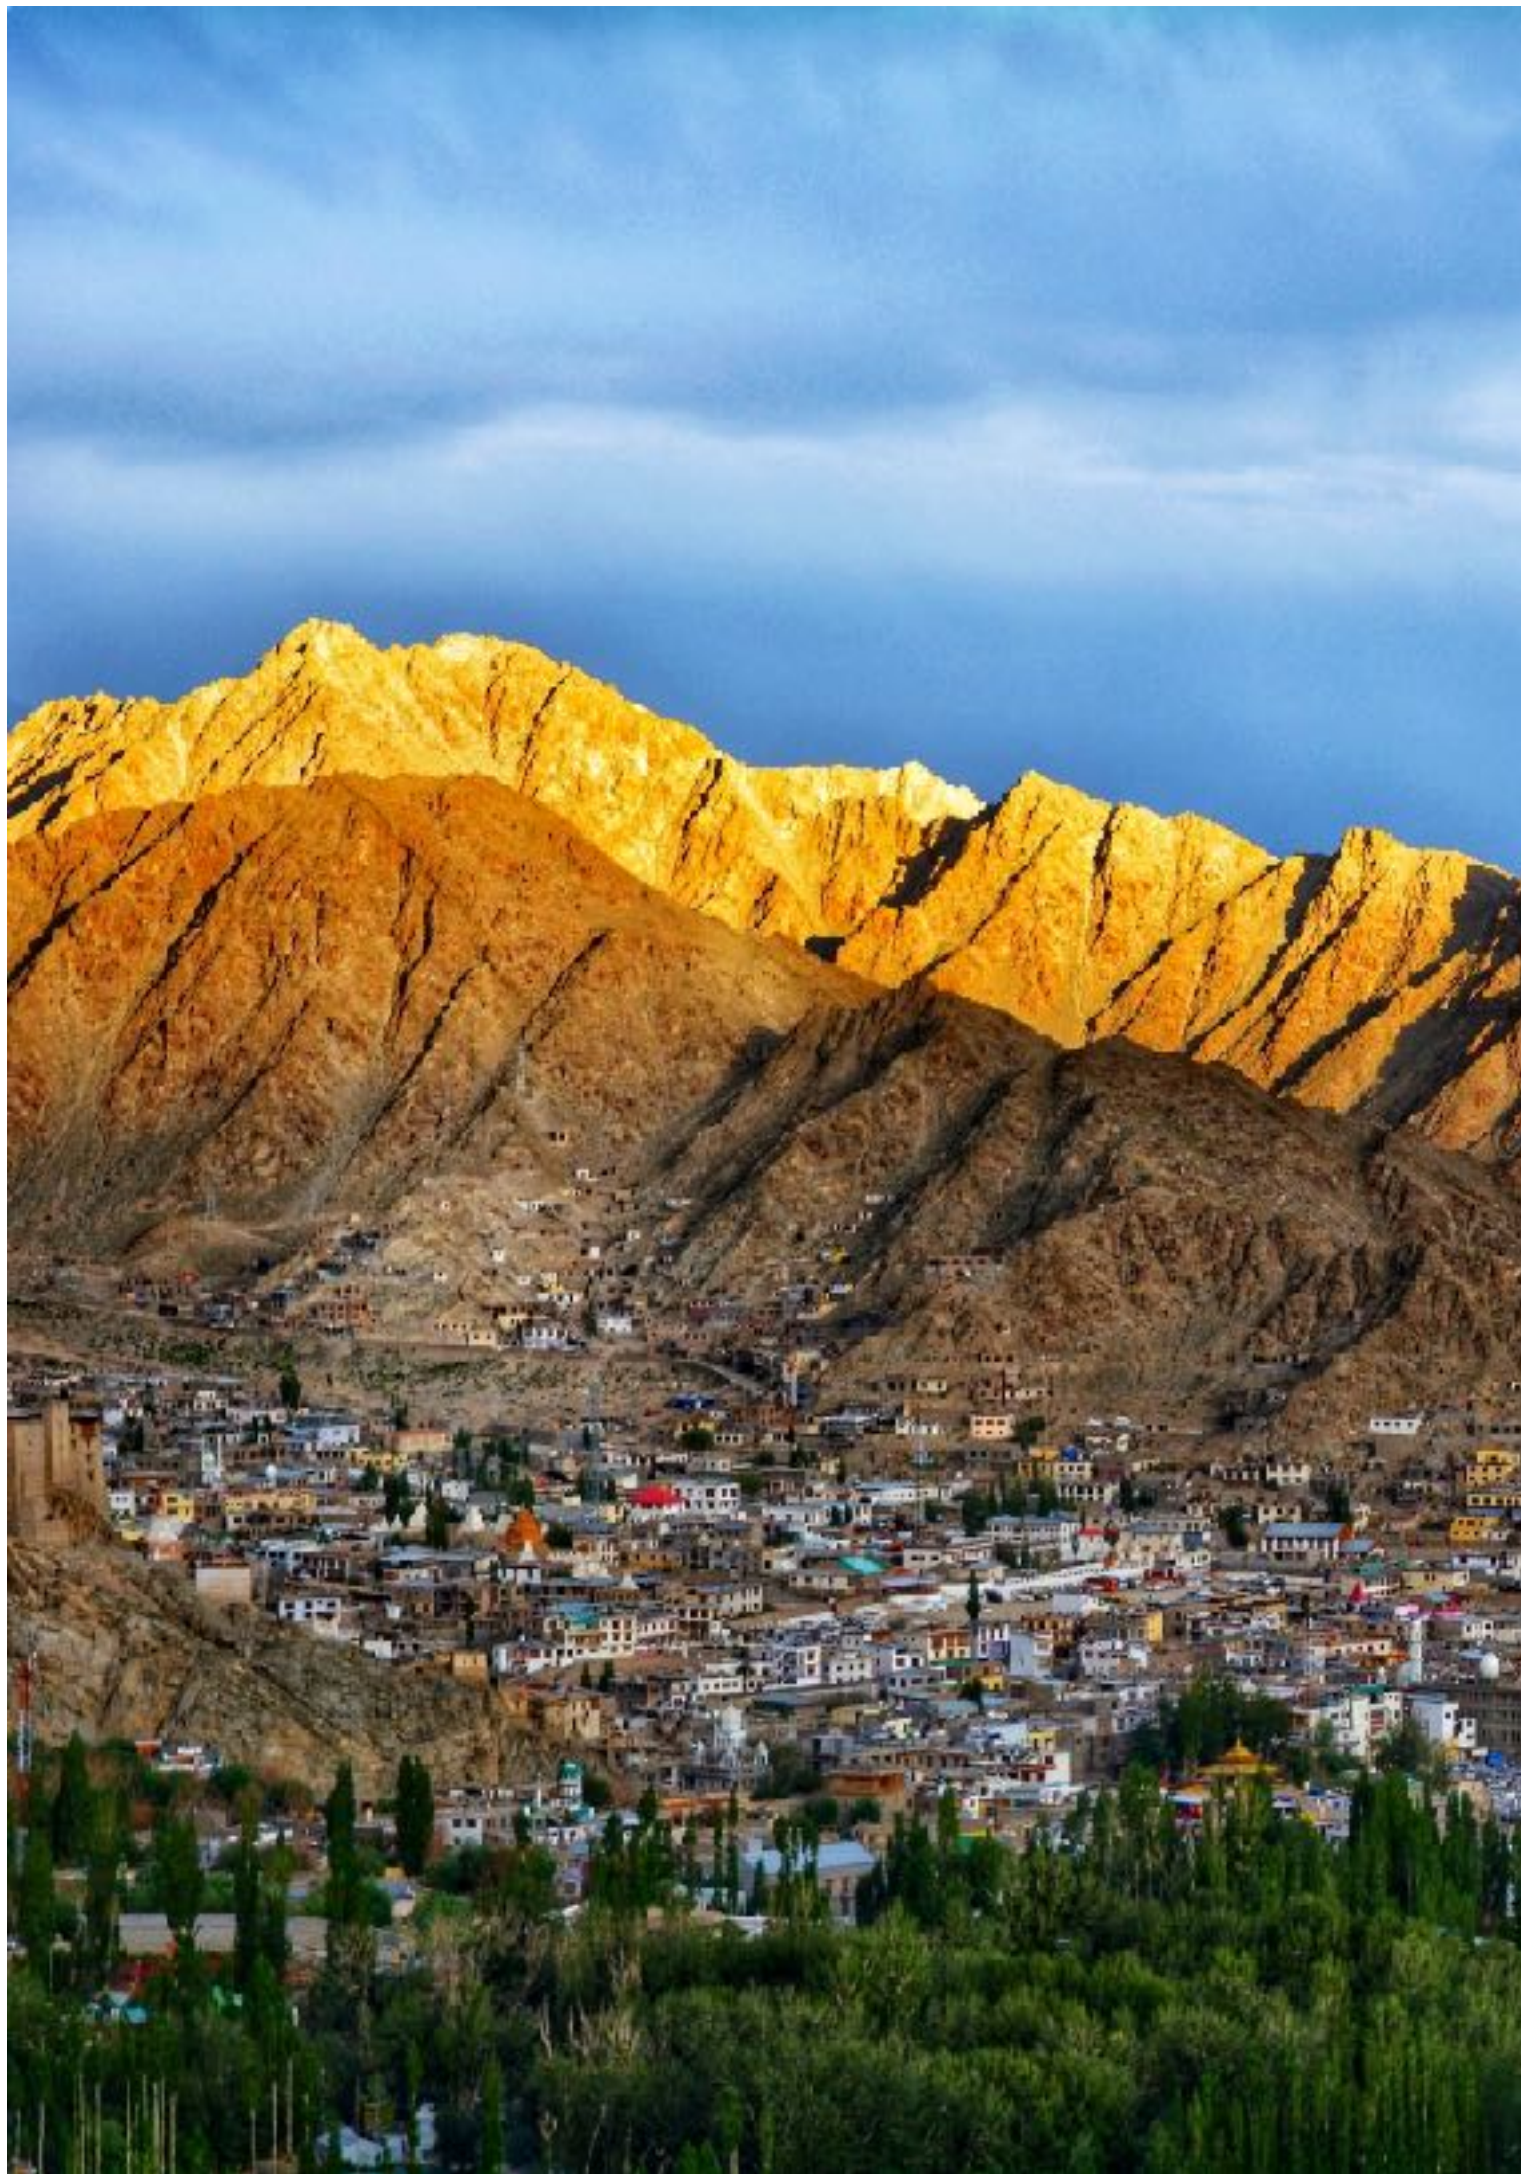

Adorned with the lofty barren mountains, Ladakh is home to some of the highest motorable passes like Khardung La (5359 m), Marsimik La (5582 m), and Chang La (5360 m), and alpine lakes like Pangong Tso (4350 m) and Tso Moriri (4522 m). Ladakh is further divided into three regions - Leh, Nubra, and Zaskar, and each region has several places to see.

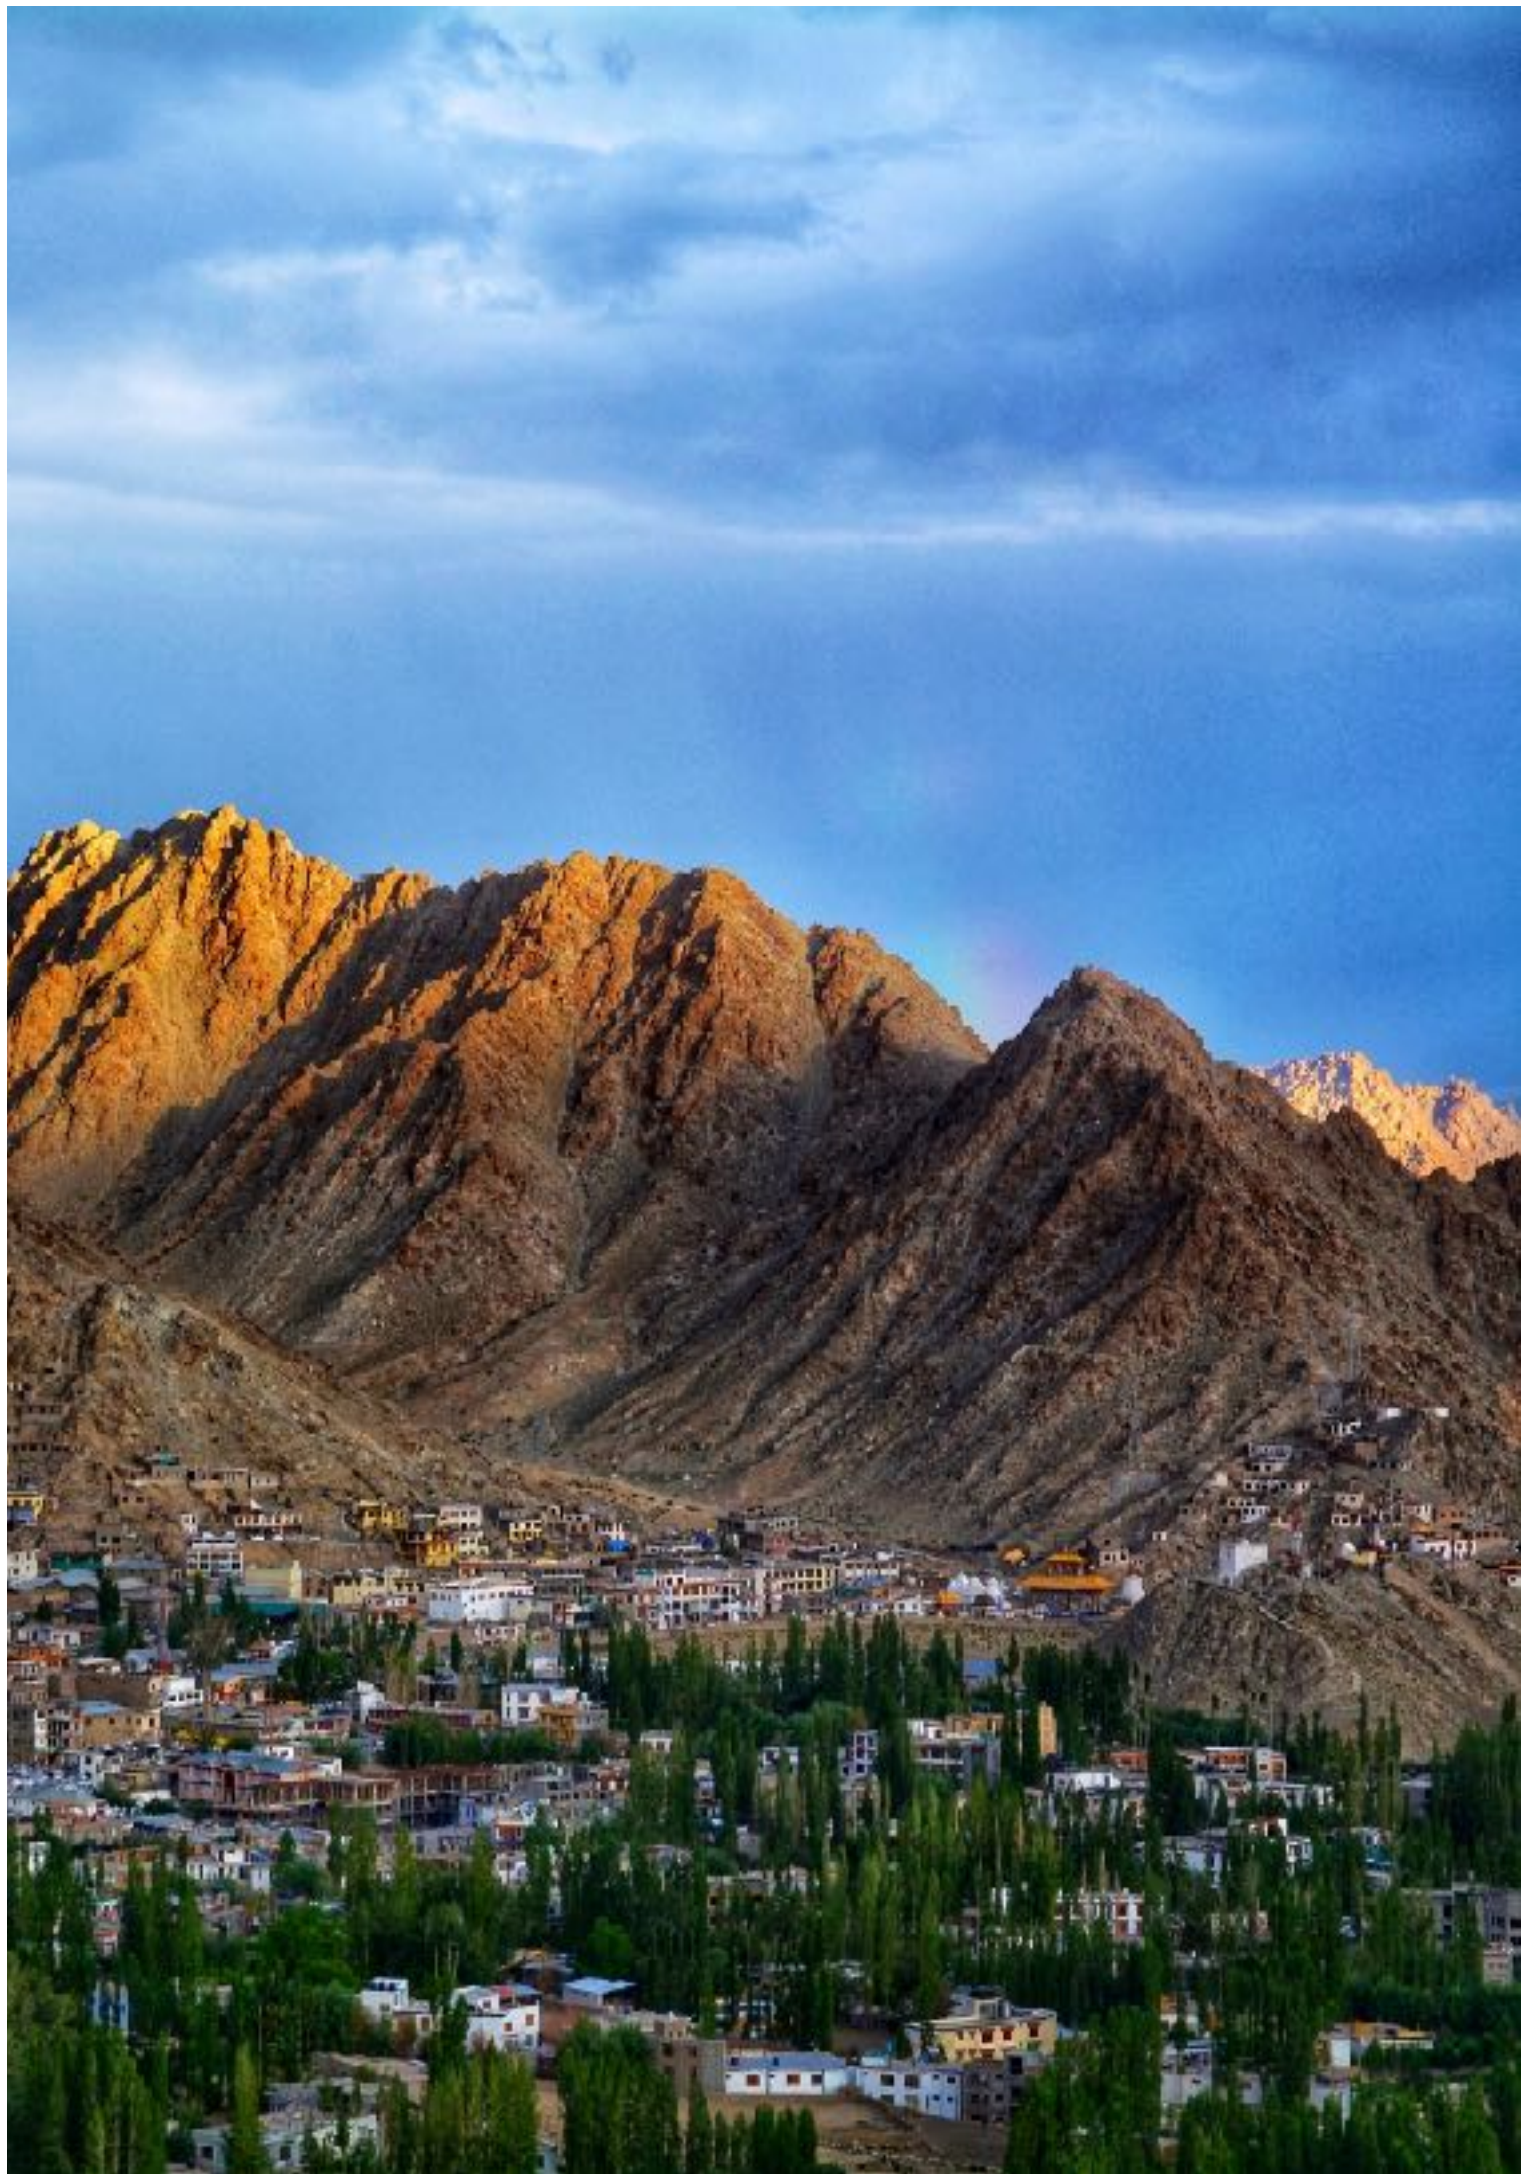

Ladakh is majorly popular amongst the adventurers who feel welcomed by the number of adrenaline rushing activities offered here. The union territory is amongst the top trekking destinations in India with amazing and unmatched treks like the popular Frozen River Trek/Chadar Trek.

Ladakh has opportunities for mountaineering, motor biking, mountain biking, white water rafting and more.

Adding to its exceptional beauty are the ancient Buddhist monasteries that are mostly nestled in the mountains and are thousands of years old.

These monasteries make for the Buddhist pilgrimage destinations in Ladakh and also act as important cultural centres where major religious festivals take place.

Grand Dragon, Leh

The Grand Dragon opened in 2007 and is Leh's first luxury hotel. It's decorated with magnificent paintings by Gulam Mustafa (the first modern artist of Ladakh).

Facilities include coffee shop, oriental restaurant, rooftop terrace and garden with mountain views, kid's activity center, health club, games and even oxygen for guests who are suffering from altitude sickness.

There are 48 guest rooms. Various packages, including an eight night honeymoon package, are offered.

Nubra Ecolodge, Nubra

Nubra ecolodge is a family run ecotourism venture, located near Sumur sand dunes in the Nubra Valley. The landscape facing the confluence of Shyok and Nubra rivers is the natural habitat for seabuckthorn, wild flowers and desert wildlife. The 11 acre farm with our family home, has been planted with poplar, willow, apricot and apple trees, along with vegetable gardens. It commands a 360 degree view of the Karakoram mountains, the sand dunes and the nubra river.

A large open deck facing the valley near the vegetable garden is used as a lounge or for dining in fair weather. Ideal location to go for long walks along the Sumur sand dunes and the nubra river.

Zion Ladakh, Leh

A place, where on one side you smell fresh grass, hear chirping of birds and on the other take pleasure in gushing chilly winds and trek your way to the Himalayas; Ladakh is a place where life simply pauses for pleasure.

Zion, Ladakh welcomes you in its warm embrace with radiance and style. With fifty five cozy rooms, the sense of calmness filters through the entire hotel.

Stay at Zion for an unforgettable experience.

The Indus Valley, Leh

For a fun-filled family vacation or a romantic getaway, The Indus Valley, Ladakh is your idyllic destination.

Set in the midst of the snow-capped mountains of the Greater Himalayas of Ladakh, The Indus Valley Hotel welcomes you to a traveller's delight of the first of its kind 5-star facility luxury hotel.

Nestled at a breath taking height of 11,500 feet, these rooms have spacious wooden floored interiors with world-class furnishings and elegant crystal chandeliers.

Saboo Resorts, Leh

LADAKH is no ordinary place and Saboo Resorts ensures that your stay is nothing less than extraordinary. Peppered with fragrant little herbs gardens and spectacular 360 degree views, the Saboo Resorts is your cradle of Luxury nestled in the quaint Saboo Village.

Step into the balcony and let your spirits soar free with the lofty mountains. Snugly wrap around the magic of the land, the innocence of the people and the warmth of the place. Love your heart to the achingly beautiful scenery as you walk along a gurgling stream guarded by tall and proud poplars on its side.

The Maitreya Ladakh, Leh

Striving to give guests a unique experience, The Maitreya Ladakh was meticulously crafted to depict architecture and ambiance that are contemporary Ladakhi.

Set against the backdrop of iconic Himalayas and a panoramic skyline, this artfully built Ladakhi gem rests gracefully beside green lawns, local Ladakhi homes while concealing an experience of unsurpassed pampering behind her understated facade. The Maitreya Leh Ladakh is one of the Best Hotel in Leh Ladakh with modern amenities & guest facilities in Leh Ladakh.

Pangong Retreat Camp, Pangong

The Pangong Retreat Camp is in Spangmik village on the Bank of Pangong Lake, and is located at distance of about 150 kms away from the Leh city facing the Pangong lake with a direct view of the mountains.

The remoteness of location is all the more evident when seen from my high vantage point. The few houses are scattered like dots in a landscape dominated by the long blue stretch of the lake and the barren mountain slopes. It looks like a place out of dreams that is too unreal and too beautiful to be true.

The Kesar Palace, Leh

Located in the heart of the ancient town of Leh, The Hotel is designed traditionally, eco friendly and constructed on the lines of a Ladakhi Palace architectural built-up.

Designed by famous Ladakhi Interior designers it has unique & excellent Ladakhi architectural structures known as Shingsag and all the rooms have been provided with Raphsal (Balcony) as you find in the Palaces around Leh Ladakh .

Ladakh Sarai Hotels, Ladakh

Nesting in the gratifying branch of the Great Himalayas are our luxurious resorts and camps greeting the admirers for hospitality of utmost comfort and paradise. We grant blissful service in the astonishing barren land to showcase the serenity of this wonderland. Sarai has its own quiet terrain. We have incorporated solitude of serenity in our vicinities just in the backyard of the heavenly drawing locations.

Nimmu House, Nimmoo

Nimmu House is a charming eco-resort nestled at 10,000 feet in the traditional village of Nimmoo. It is situated at 45 minutes of Leh, capital of Ladakh and can be reached easily by taxi. Considered as the ideal anchor sport for trekkers who want to explore the Himalayan paths or travellers who want to discover the cultural jewels of the region.

Nimmu House is also a relaxing place where one can reconnect with himself and recharge his batteries! Couples, families, groups of friends or solo travellers, everyone enjoys the traditional beauty and the exceptional setting of this little Himalayan heaven.

Shakti Ladakh

A network of rural Tibetan villages in the off-the-beaten-parts of Ladakh make up this fantastic tailor-made experience with outposts in Sikkim, Ladakh and Kumaon. The idea that Shakti promotes is that of getting in touch with the local life, nature and culture outside of the more popular capital of Leh. You can trek between the luxury stays or head out into the wild and camp. Shakti, as one of the top luxury hotels in Ladakh, even allows you to camp in the middle of the wilderness.

Gomang Boutique Hotel, Leh

Gomang Boutique Hotel is the first luxury boutique hotel in Ladakh offering guests a level of comfort and personal service never before available in the region. The hotel is located in Changspa, a tranquil area of Leh town, next to an icy stream with expansive picturesque views of the Stok mountain range.

Accommodations are in thoughtfully designed luxury rooms with all modern amenities. Each floor has an extremely comfortable exclusive lounge where guests can take full advantage of the hotel's unique library of over 3000 books.

The Indus River Camp, Leh

The Indus River Camp is owned by the Indus Welfare Society, a local organisation of 250 local Buddhist villagers from the village of Chuchot Yokma, 3 of whom fashioned the camp as it is today.

In the midst of this beautiful area of natural vegetation, and with minimum disruption to the land, we have managed to find sympathetic space for camping in 5 tents, 3 cottages, activities and a dining hall. Many small animals and over 200 hundred types of birds depend on the wild berries that grow on our land. We strive to keep in harmony with the wildlife.

Stok Palace Heritage Hotel, Leh

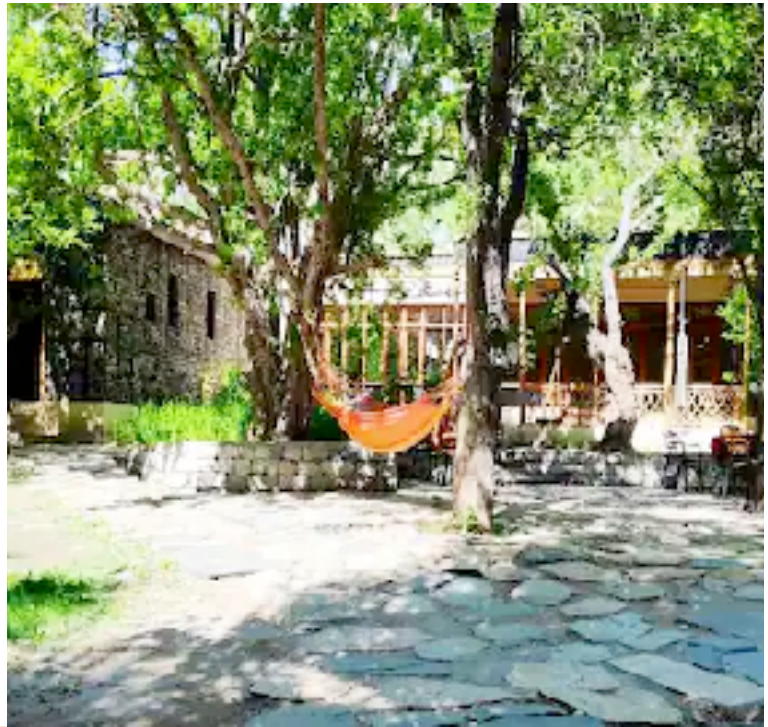

Stay at the Stok Palace Heritage Hotel and experience something unique, an attempt to open up a living heritage space to guests. Whether it is the 6 gorgeously restored rooms in the palace building or the 2-bedroom villas amidst the apricot orchard.

The four-storied building is stately on the outside and mysterious inside, its shaded corridors and courtyards lead you into beautifully colourful spaces. Perched majestically on top of a ridge, the palace offers breath-taking views of the Indus valley from many of the rooms.

Nubra Organic Retreat, Hunder

This smoke-free campsite features a restaurant, concierge services and dry cleaning. Free WiFi in public areas and free self parking are also provided. Additionally, a 24-hour front desk, tour/ticket assistance and multilingual staff are on-site. The accommodation features a balcony, room service and a shower.

Amenities also include a phone and free toiletries. This campsite offers 15 forms of accommodation which are accessible via exterior corridors and feature blackout curtains. Rooms open to balconies. Each accommodation is individually furnished and decorated.

The Zen Ladakh, Leh

Legendary style makes it one of the most prestigious Hotel. 3,485 m above the sea level, in the Stok Kangri range of the Himalayas, stands a world-class resort, "Hotel The Zen Ladakh", that endows upon you the best of worlds - magnificent opulence & revelling comfort.

A world away from the ordinary, this 82 Keys resort is a haven of luxury! Exquisitely designed to pamper you in every way with plush interiors, fine cuisine and restorative treatment we're one of the best hotels in Leh and Ladakh having name in "LIMCA BOOK OF WORLD RECORDS".

The Apricot Tree Hotel, Nurla

Nestled amongst apricot and apple trees and perched on the edge of a cliff overlooking the Indus river, The Apricot Tree Hotel at Nurla is a perfect getaway to explore Ladakh.

A small boutique hotel built in close synergy with traditional Ladakhi architecture and artistic styles. At the same time, the hotel offers modern facilities to make your stay comfortable. The hotel is located on the outskirts of the village of Nurla, which lies at an altitude of 2,800 metres. It is a ninety-minute drive from Leh Airport, and easily accessible along the Leh-Srinagar Highway.

Leh - The Capital

Leh is where your adventure in Ladakh begins! The capital city of the recently formed union territory is the right reflection of what this venturesome North Indian destination is all about.

At first, you might find Leh to be a quiet destination, but with further exploration you'll find, Leh to be quite an exciting place to be for everyone. Be it a nature lover, a cultural aficionado, a history lover, an adventure enthusiast or even honeymooners, there's certainly something special for all in Leh tourism.

Inside Leh City, for history & culture lovers are some must-see places like Leh Palace, seated atop a mountain; Shanti Stupa, perched on a mountain and is widely acclaimed; Leh Market, an ideal place for shopping in Ladakh; and the War Museum that gives you a detailed insight into the wars in India and the role of Indian Army.

For a spiritual tour amidst the beautiful settings sit imposing Buddhist monasteries like Ladakh's richest monastery, Hemis Gumpa; the oldest monastery, Alchi Gumpa; Thiksey Monastery; Matho Monastery, Spituk Gumpa and more. These monasteries are ideal for history lovers as well as culture enthusiasts who can enjoy annual festivals here and large collections of books, artifacts and more.

For adventurous souls, Leh is the base point for several adrenaline rushing activities. From the city starts numerous enthralling trekking tours, motor biking adventures, mountain biking ventures, as well as river rafting preparations.

It is in fact the place to gear up for the adventure of your choice and buy/rent all the necessary accessories. For wildlife lovers, sitting close to Leh is the largest national park in India, Hemis National Park, which is home to a large number of rare animals like snow leopards, ibex, and Tibetan gazelle.

Around Leh also sit some of the most amazing places for sightseeing in Ladakh. The confluence of Indus and Zaskar rivers in Nimmu; the sacred Sikh gurudwara, Patthar Sahib; Magnetic Hill, known for its optical illusion; are some of the major places to visit for tourists.

FXPI ORF

Nubra Valley

Certainly one of the best places to see in Ladakh, it was featured as one of top 5 places to visit in Ladakh, Nubra valley, a tri-armed valley towards the northeast. The sand dunes of the Nubra Valley offer the tourists Arabian Nights like experience.

Nubra valley is one of the most famous tourist attractions in Leh Ladakh for its two-humped camels. So, be sure to check out this one while you're out and about in the scenic land of Leh!

One of the other famous places here is the Samstanling Monastery, which should definitely be in your list. Panamik village which is famous for hot sulphur springs is another attraction in Nubra Valley.

Zanskar

Without a doubt, Zanskar valley is one of the best places to visit in Leh Ladakh and the best Ladakh tourist places. It is amongst the most desolate places in the Himalayan range.

The steep terrains covered with snow reflect the heavenly skies. The tributaries of the Zanskar River is one of the most famous places for river rafting in India.

The Zanskar, Ladakh places of interest are surely among those must visit places in Leh Ladakh that you just cannot afford to miss while you're in Ladakh!

Kargil

Kargil is one of the two districts (the other being Leh) & the joint capital of Ladakh, the newly created Union Territory of India. It is located at an altitude of 8,80 feet above sea level on the banks of the Suru River. A tourist spending their holidays in Kargil will easily fall in love with its landscape, which has plenty of contrast. There are valleys, lakes & mountains, along with monasteries which offer lovely sightseeing opportunities.

Some of the most famous places in Kargil like Suru Valley lend it its marvellous beauty. Starting from Kargil, it stretches all the way to Penzi La watershed. Surrounded by mountains from all sides, it is a place of heavenly beauty with orchards of mulberry, apple & apricot trees dotting its landscape.

Dras

Drass is a valley located in the Kargil district in the Union Territory of Ladakh. It lies on National Highway 1 (NH 1) between Zoji La & Kargil town, and is famously referred to as the Gateway to Ladakh. For most people, their information about Drass begins & ends with it being the second coldest place in the world (the first being Siberia). However, there is more to Drass than just the bone chilling temperature.

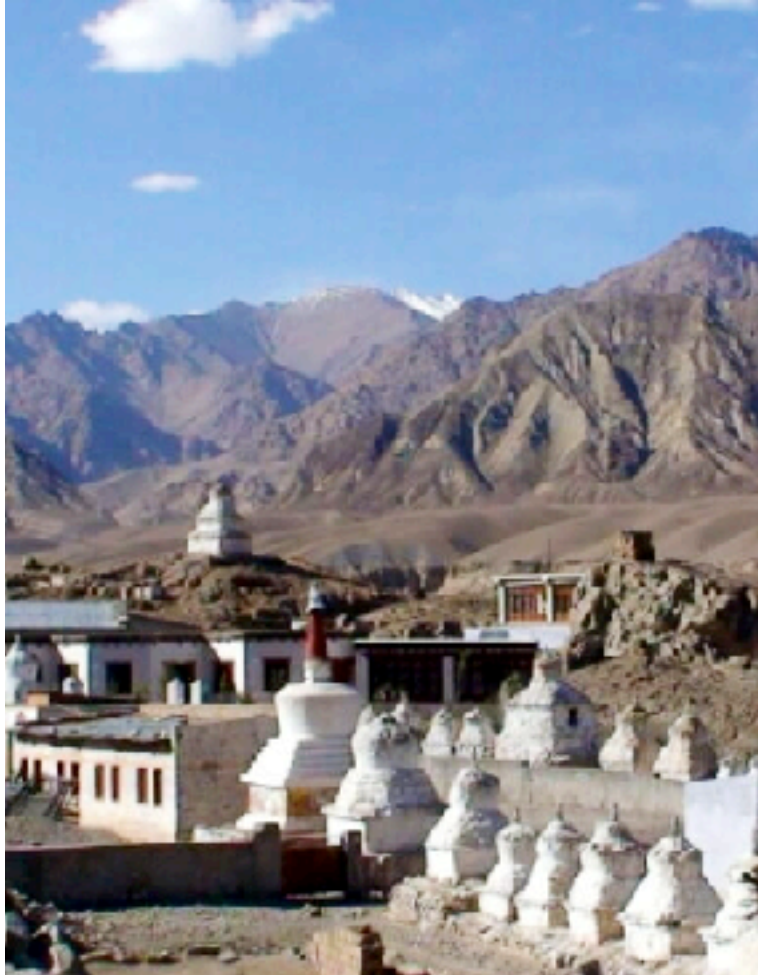

It is a place blessed with immense beauty, with enormous mountains ranges surrounding it from all sides and spectacular sunset views that win your heart. Besides natural beauty, sightseeing in Drass also includes visiting its monasteries & other religious holy sites.

Pangong Tso Lake

Remember the breathtakingly beautiful lake from 3 Idiots where Kareena Kapoor confessed her love? It's Pangong Tso, a lake amongst the popular tourist attractions in Leh Ladakh is situated on the Changtang plateau in eastern Ladakh region.

The lake offers an awesome site for camping and is the current hotspot for all people making it one of the best Ladakh tourist places. To avoid the crowd, you can visit this place during the off-season!

Alchi

Alchi is a busy village located in the Himalayan region of Ladakh, in the valley of Indus River. The model town of Alchi is home to an ancient Buddhist monastery which dates back to 900 years. The monastery proudly bears the 11th – 12th-century Indo-Tibetan paintings done in bright green, gold, ochre and azure shades.

The painted state of Bodhisattva Maitreya is a major highlight of the monastery. You are suggested to spend a night Alchi to discover the real Ladakhi village life. You can also enjoy river rafting at the Alchi Nyemo.

Tso Kar

The oscillating salt lake in Ladakh valley, Tso kar is one of the most popular destinations in Ladakh. It is more often known as the white lake, and the Tso Kar Lake is a seren retreat for many travelers. Surrounding areas of the lake include a couple of nomadic families, few yak sheds, and a monastery.

It is suggested to camp overnight in Tso Kar for a completely different experience. It is also an amazing place for birdwatching.

Lamayuru

Lamayuru is a small hamlet in Ladakh. It is famous for its moon-like topography and craggy terrain, which inspires photographers to capture the amazing photos in their cameras.

Lamayuru has the oldest monastery in Ladakh, the Lamayuru Monastery. It has murals, Buddhist paintings, and frescoes on the walls. In the midst of the unusual terrain, the monastery looks beautiful and is a visual delight.

Tso Moriri Lake

A twin to the popular Pangong Tso Lake, Tso Moriri Lake is a lesser-known lake located in the Changtang Wildlife Sanctuary. Its location contributes to the scenic beauty of this lake. Barren hills with snow-capped mountains in the backdrop make the sight simply breathtaking.

The attribute of being a “lesser known” makes this place less crowded so you can be sure of having a place to yourself at the lake. The open sky at Tso Moriri Lake makes it a perfect place for star gazing at night. Moriri Tso, also known as a ‘Mountain Lake’ was declared as a wetland reserve.

Various kinds of species including the Brahmin duck, bare-headed goose, the brown-headed gull, and the great-crested grebe are found here, along with Himalayan Hares that are present in large numbers. The peaks that surround this lake are so high that they shut-off this place from the outer world.

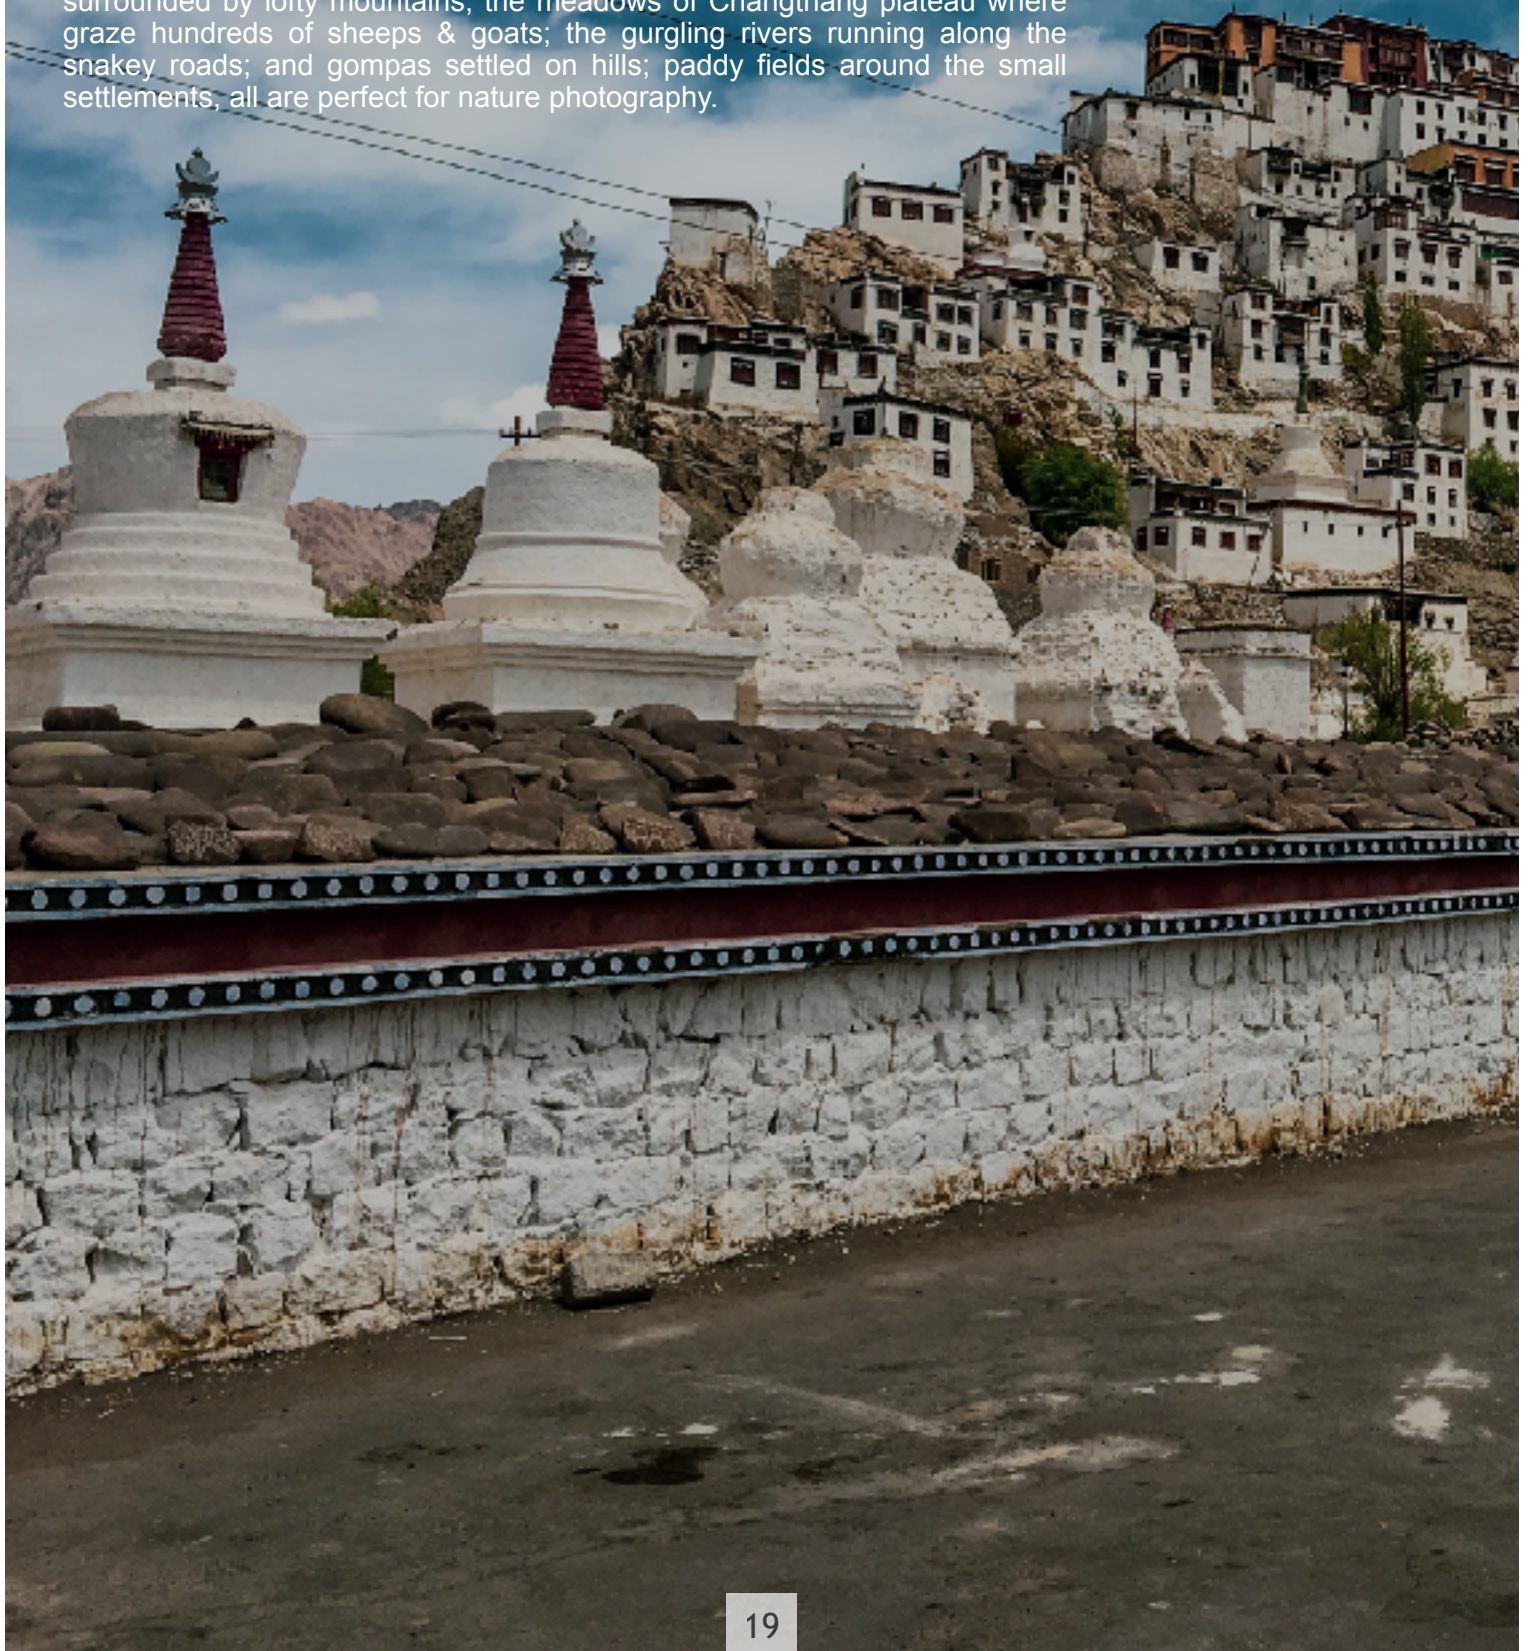

Nyoma

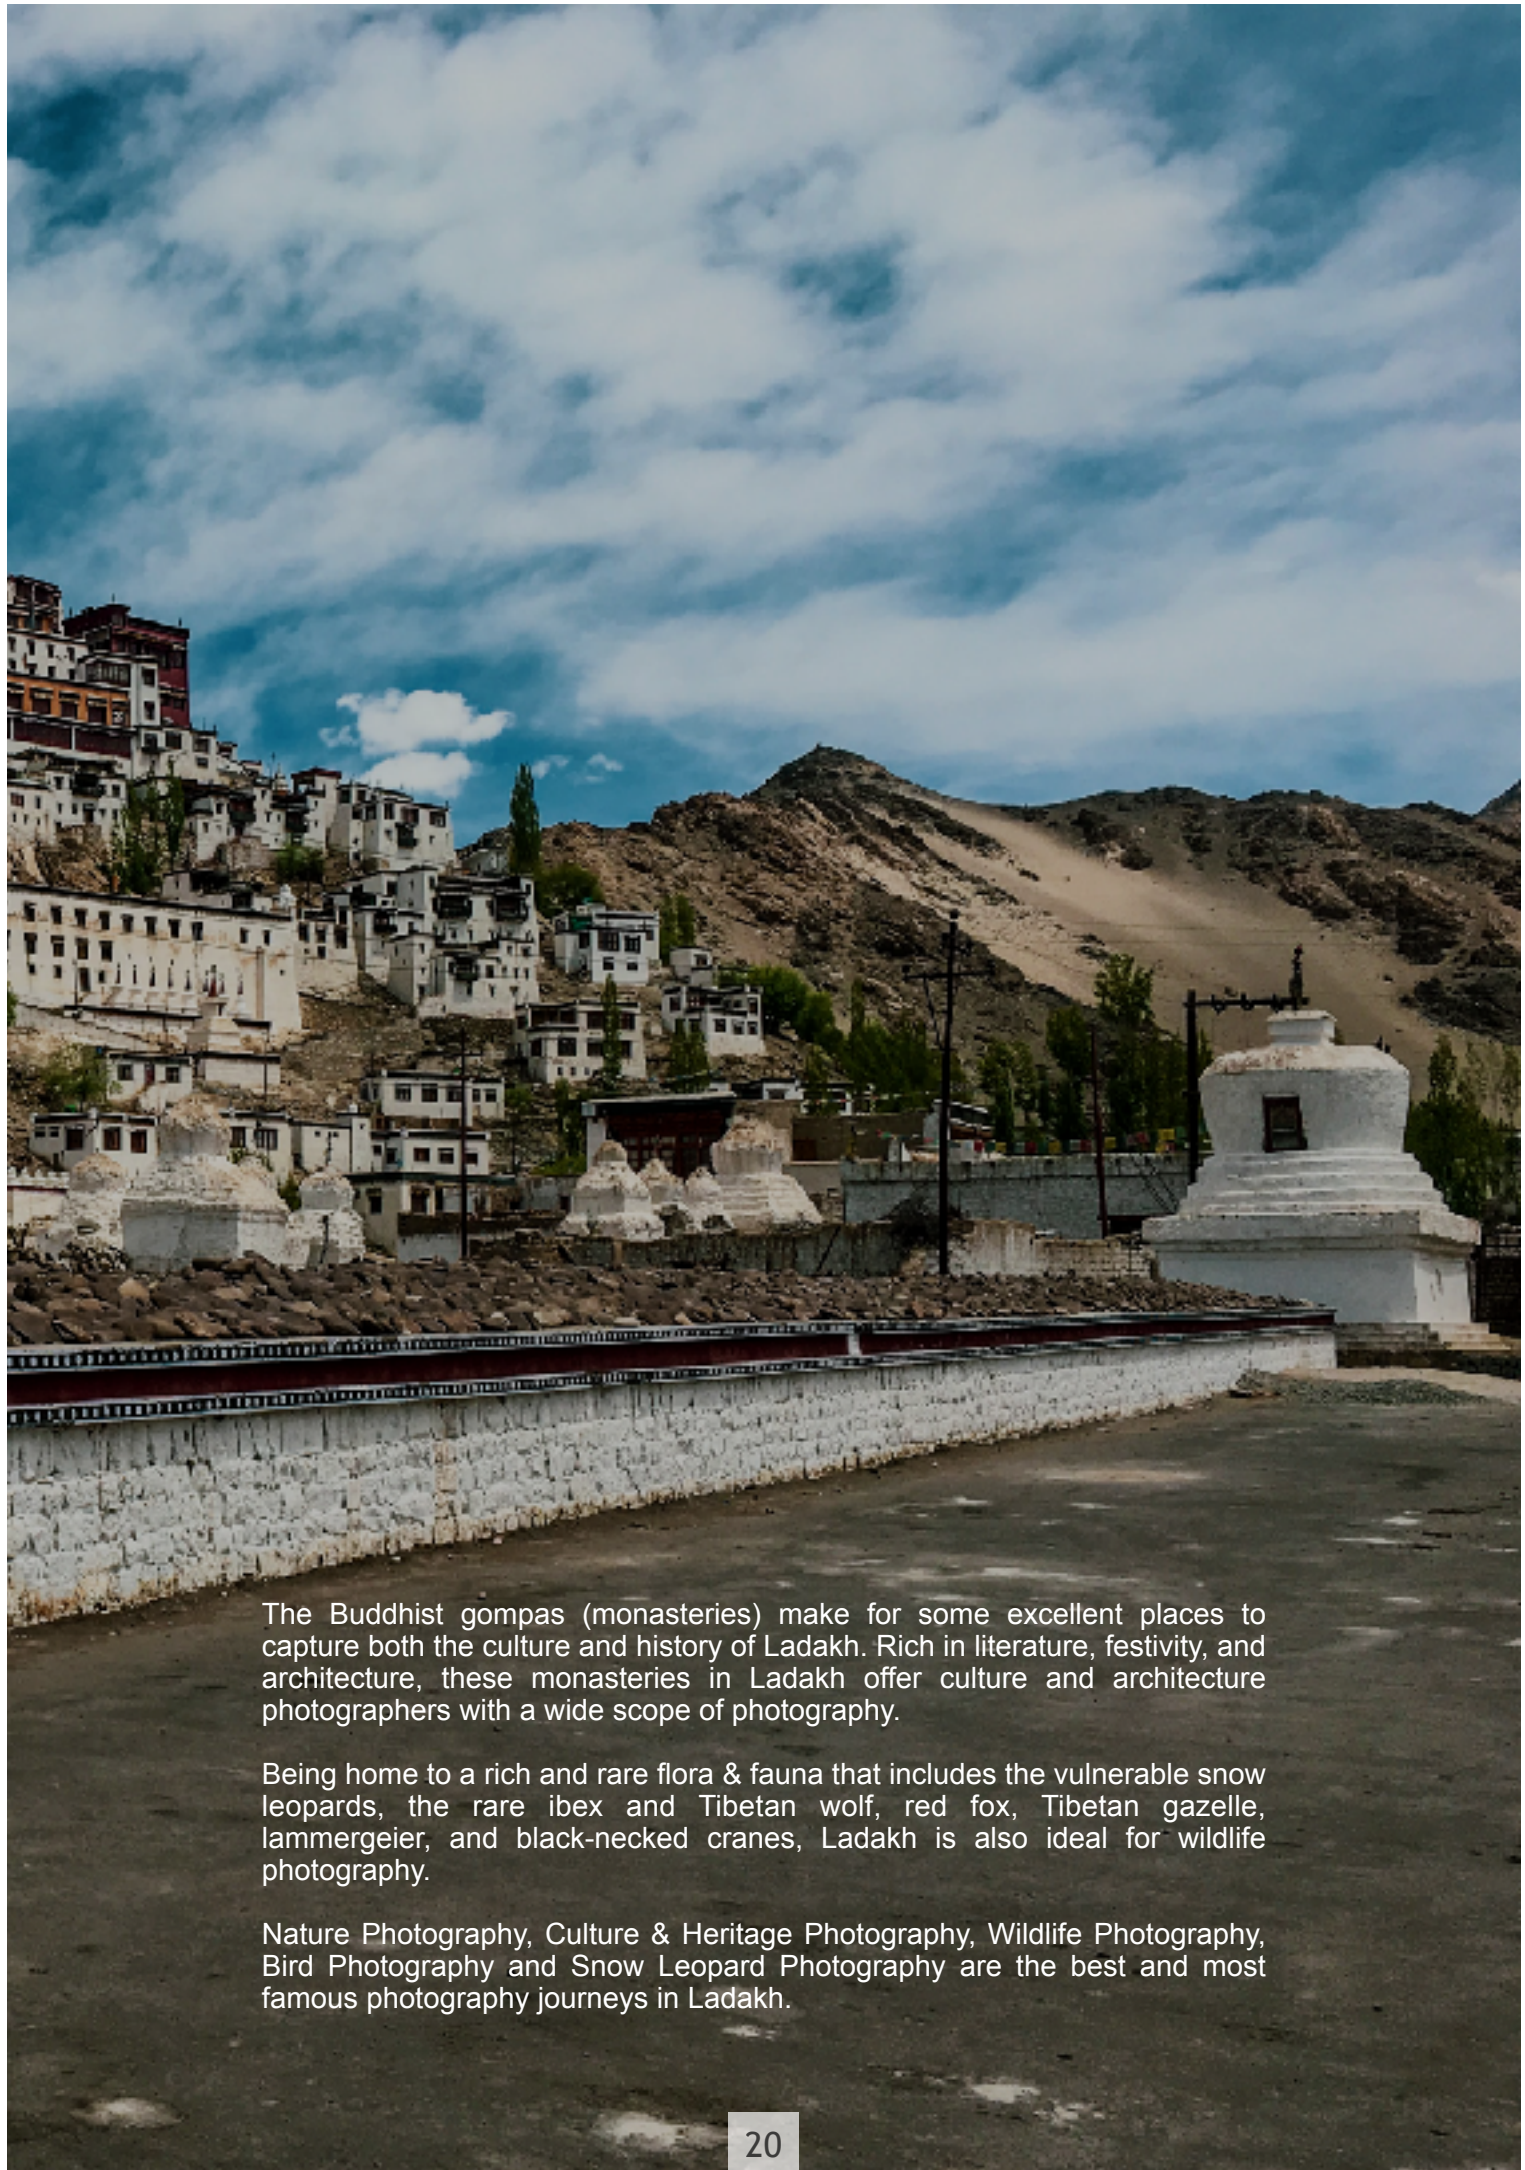

A quaint town, Nyoma is located in the district of Leh, 370 km from Srinagar. The most striking attribute of Nyoma is that it is located on the Indus banks. If you have a permit of inner line, you can also visit the small Buddhist monastery in the town which is known as Gompa.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Ladakh is unarguably, a photographer's delight as it has multiple beautiful aspects to be covered by nature photographers, culture photographers, wildlife photographers and those interested in taking portrait shots and even enjoy street photography.

The natural beauty is absolutely evident in Ladakh. The azure alpine lakes surrounded by lofty mountains; the meadows of Changthang plateau where graze hundreds of sheep & goats; the gurgling rivers running along the snakey roads; and gompas settled on hills; paddy fields around the small settlements, all are perfect for nature photography.

The Buddhist gompas (monasteries) make for some excellent places to capture both the culture and history of Ladakh. Rich in literature, festivity, and architecture, these monasteries in Ladakh offer culture and architecture photographers with a wide scope of photography.

Being home to a rich and rare flora & fauna that includes the vulnerable snow leopards, the rare ibex and Tibetan wolf, red fox, Tibetan gazelle, lammergeier, and black-necked cranes, Ladakh is also ideal for wildlife photography.

Nature Photography, Culture & Heritage Photography, Wildlife Photography, Bird Photography and Snow Leopard Photography are the best and most famous photography journeys in Ladakh.

EXPERIENCES

WILDLIFE

Like its unique landscape, Ladakh also boasts being home to some unique and rare species of flora and fauna making it an interesting wildlife destination in India. The fauna of Ladakh has much in common with that of Central Asia and Tibet, the flora also matches that of the Tibetan Plateau.

However, what makes Ladakh a bit different from Central Asia is the variety and number of birds it receives from the warmer parts of India in the summer season. Ladakh is noted for being home (permanent and temporary) to as many as 318 species of birds.

Amongst the species of animals found in Ladakh, the ibex is a major attraction. Other than this, Ladakh is amongst few places in India for snow leopard sighting. Bharal (blue sheep), Tibetan urial sheep (shapo), marmot, Tibetan argali sheep (nyan), and Tibetan wild ass are some of the commonly seen species in Ladakh. On the other side, Tibetan gazelle, Tibetan antelope, red fox, lynx, Pallas's cat, and Tibetan Wolf are some of the rare animal species seen in Ladakh.

The most popular wildlife destination in Ladakh to sight these animals is Hemis National Park, which is the largest national park in India.

LAKES

Inarguably, Ladakh is home to some of the most spectacular landscapes in the world. In fact it is the prime driving force that draw wanderers and explorers from far and wide to visit this surreal land. Complimenting the surrounding high and barren mountains, these lakes certainly contribute to Ladakh's paradisiacal appearance, and they truly make one fall in love with them instantly.

What makes these beautiful lakes in Ladakh even more attractive is their high altitude location. Often referred as alpine lakes, these water bodies are situated at a height of 3000 meters and above. Mostly endorheic and oligotrophic in nature, these lakes freeze forming a thick sheet of ice on which walking is possible during the winter season.

Amongst the popular lakes in Ladakh are Pangong Lake, which is a trans-border lake that sprawl between India and China; Tsomoriri and Tso Kar, which are a little less explored than the former one; and Yarab Tso, which is completely offbeat. Since Ladakh is still an unexplored land, chances are there are innumerable hidden lakes that are even more gorgeous than the known ones.

PILGRIMAGE

Home to hundreds of Buddhist monasteries, Ladakh is undoubtedly one of the most important Buddhist pilgrimage destinations in India. Centuries old monasteries are nestled in the lofty mountains of Ladakh.

There are pilgrimage destinations situated not only at the popular places to visit in Ladakh but in the remote corners as well. Amongst the top pilgrimage places in Ladakh is its acclaimed Shanti Stupa in Leh City.

Even though the devotees can pay obeisance throughout the year at the Buddhist monasteries in Ladakh, planning a pilgrimage tour around the religious festivals is deemed an ideal plan.

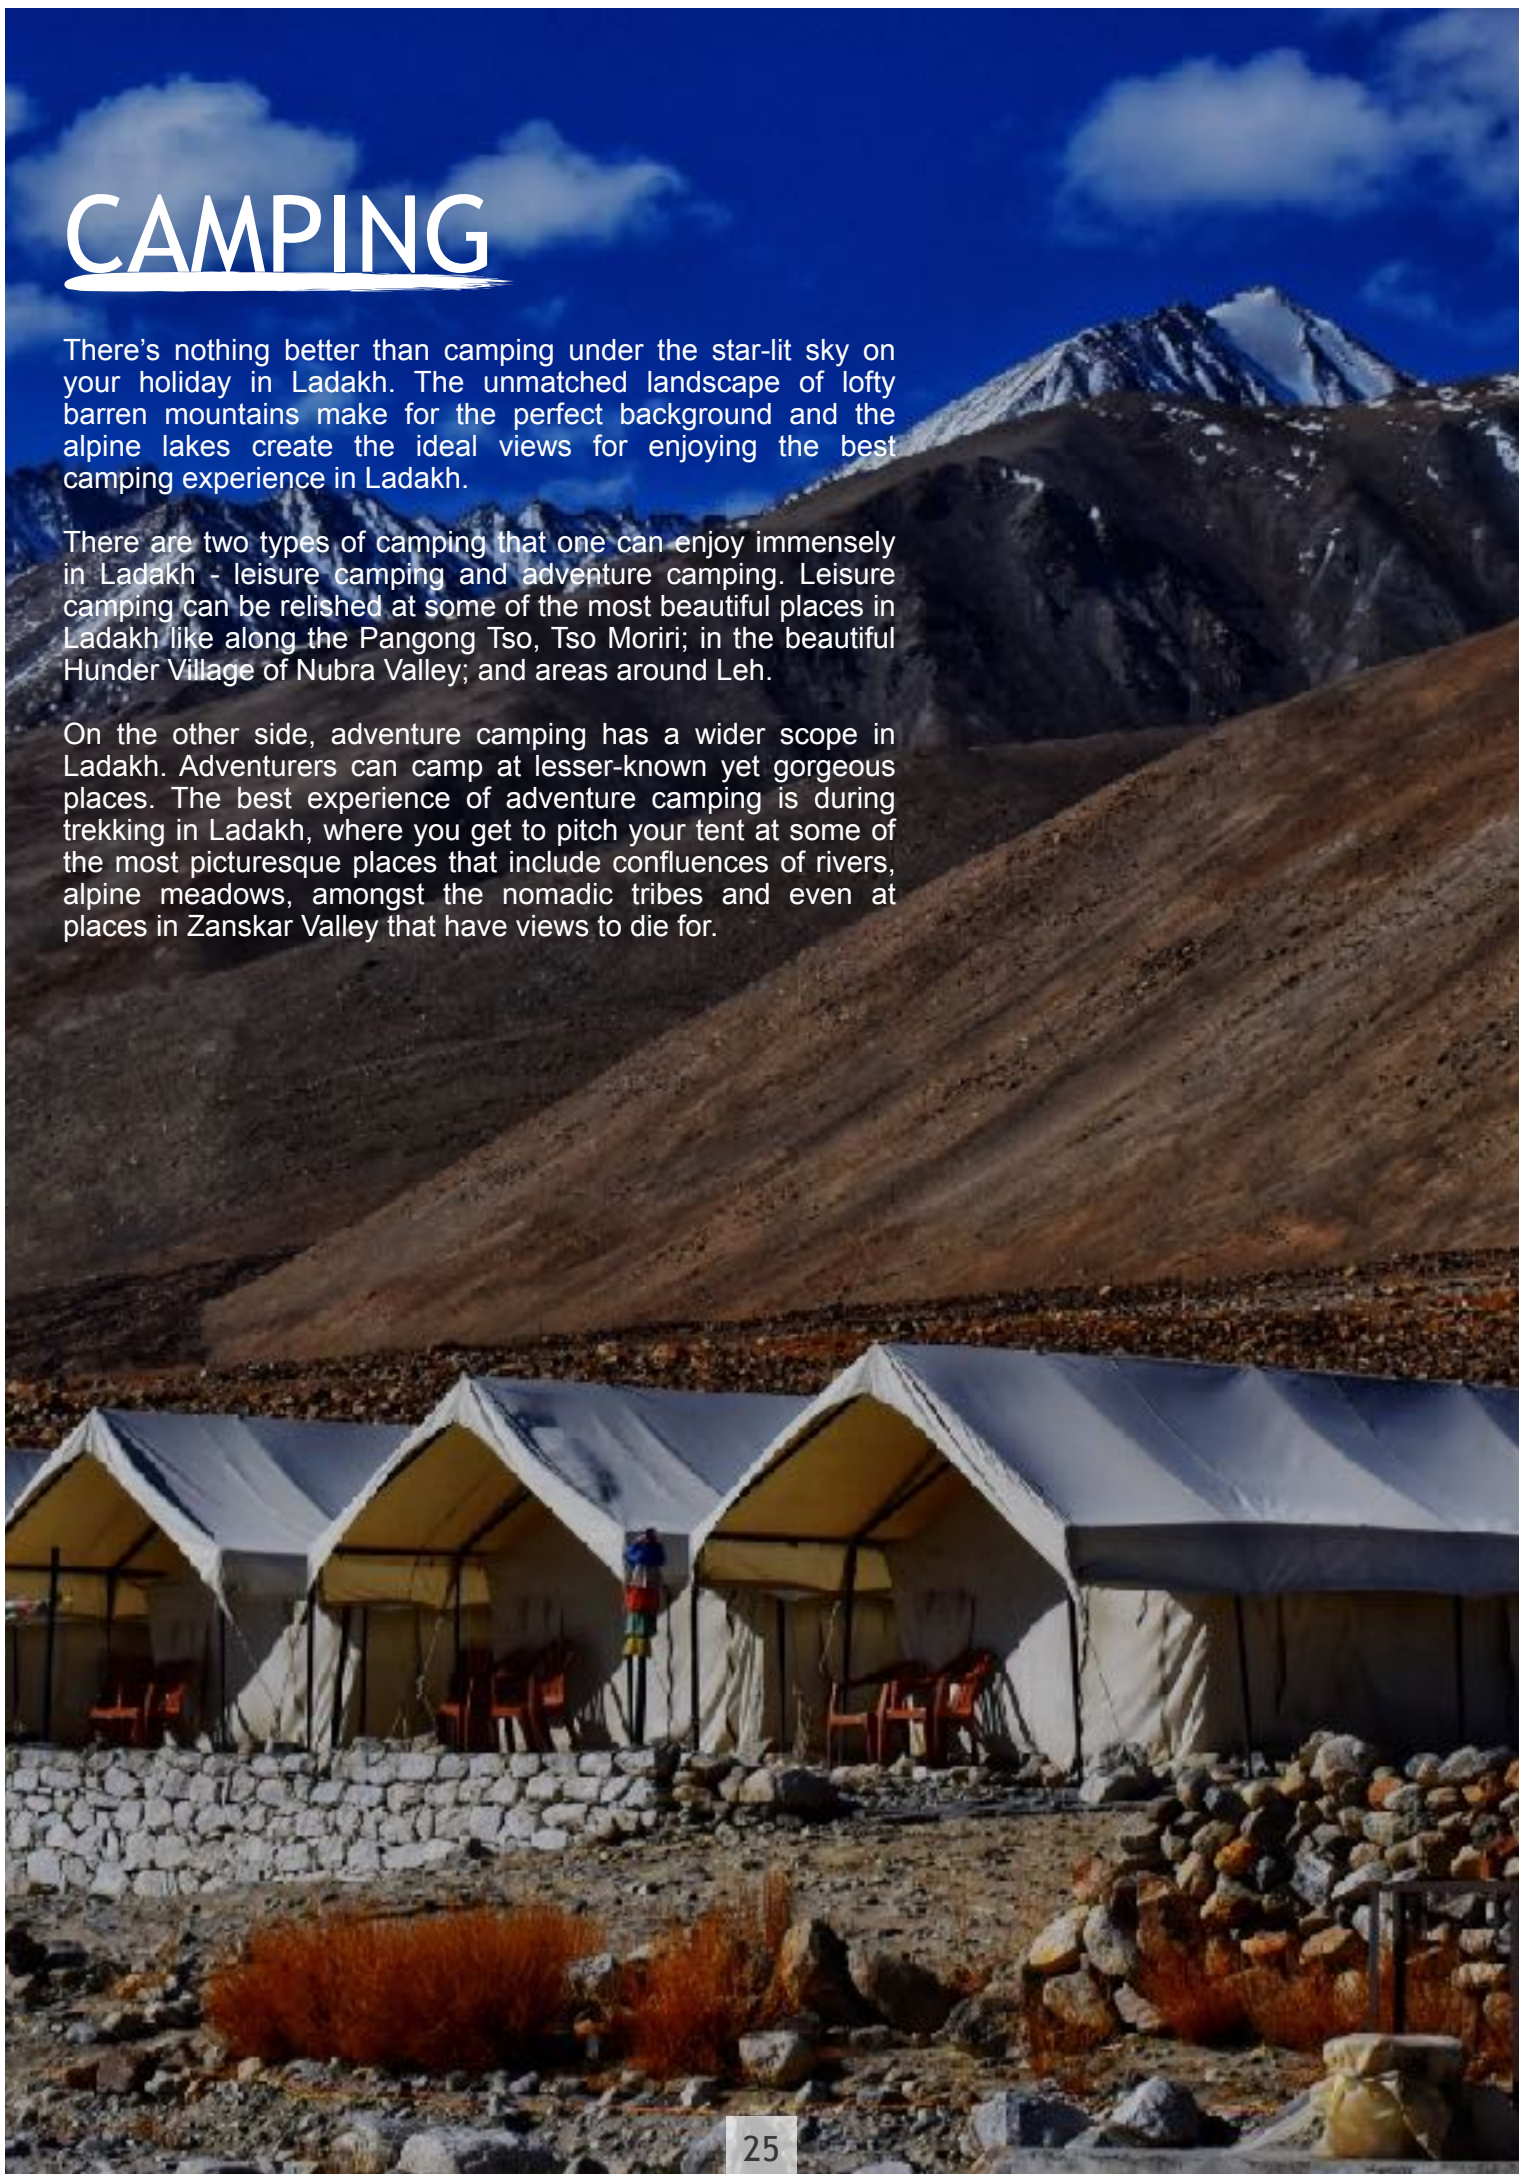

Amongst the most important religious places in Ladakh are Hemis Monastery where the Hemis Festival takes place; Lamayuru Monastery where Yuru Kabgyat is celebrated; and Phyang Monastery where Phyang Tsedup takes place. Thiksey, Spituk, Karsha, Likir, and Diskit monasteries, all have an annual festival that can be planned to be witnessed on your spiritual tour in Ladakh.

CAMPING

There's nothing better than camping under the star-lit sky on your holiday in Ladakh. The unmatched landscape of lofty barren mountains make for the perfect background and the alpine lakes create the ideal views for enjoying the best camping experience in Ladakh.

There are two types of camping that one can enjoy immensely in Ladakh - leisure camping and adventure camping. Leisure camping can be relished at some of the most beautiful places in Ladakh like along the Pangong Tso, Tso Moriri; in the beautiful Hunder Village of Nubra Valley; and areas around Leh.

On the other side, adventure camping has a wider scope in Ladakh. Adventurers can camp at lesser-known yet gorgeous places. The best experience of adventure camping is during trekking in Ladakh, where you get to pitch your tent at some of the most picturesque places that include confluences of rivers, alpine meadows, amongst the nomadic tribes and even at places in Zaskar Valley that have views to die for.

HORSE RIDING

Ladakh is a paradise for adventure seekers and nature explorers. From thrilling trekking trails to mountain biking, there are multiple adventure activities that travelers can enjoy in Ladakh.

Among the many exciting things to do in Ladakh, horse riding is particularly exciting because of the fun, excitement & adventure associated with it. It is one of the best ways of exploring the rugged landscape of Ladakh while getting access to both paved & unpaved routes.

Apart from the landscape, other famous tourist places in Ladakh which you can visit with a horse ride are Zongkhul Gumpa, Stongdey Monastery & Penzila Pass, all of which are located in Zaskar.

CAMEL SAFARI

There are several activities which you can try during your holidays in Ladakh which are fun & entertaining. One of them is Camel Safari, which is fun, entertaining & adventurous. While most domestic tourists think that bike tours in Ladakh is the best way of exploring its landscape, wait till you have experienced a camel safari. Foreign tourists, too, think about the Thar Desert in Rajasthan when they think about camel rides in India, but Ladakh has its own share of them.

In fact, camels have been one of the major modes of transportation in Ladakh for centuries, and were used for transportation in the 17th, 18th & 19th centuries in the historic Silk Route. Today, they thrill tourists with their peculiar features and the excitement they provide.

Unlike the rest of India, where you will come across single hump camels, the camels in Ladakh are double humped, and are popularly known as Bactrian Camels. They are one of the two surviving species of camels, and are recognised as critically endangered.

These shaggy camels have a coat of thick hair, and are believed to have originated from Central Asia.

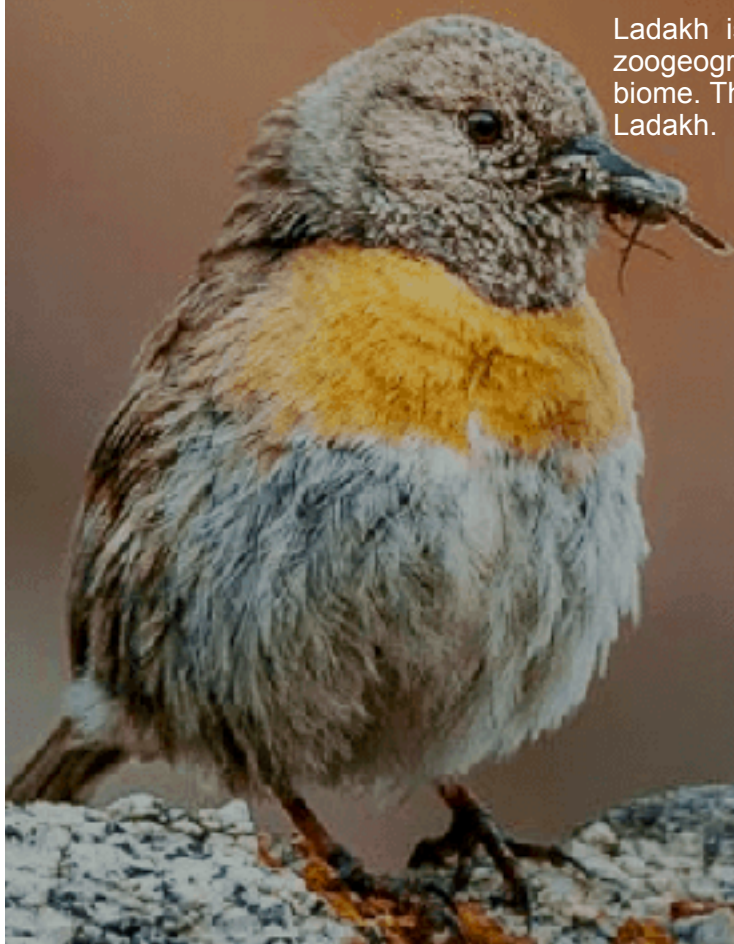

BIRDING

Ladakh is home to around 300 species of birds, and birdwatching can be one of the many exciting things. Most of these are migratory species & breeding migrants who cross the Himalayan Range during their spring & autumn migrations.

Birdwatching in Ladakh can be very exciting, as you get to spot a variety of both residential birds as well as migratory ones. The pristine landscape complements the beauty of these birds too, and what you get is a memorable experience.

Ladakh is located on the boundary of the Palearctic-Oriental zoogeographic regions, and also partly within the Tibetan biome. There are a variety of bird species that can be spotted in Ladakh.

MOUNTAIN PASSES

Ladakh is known to many people as the “land of high passes”, and naturally so, since there are numerous high altitude passes which are as sought after by tourists as they are by locals, although for different purposes by both.

Today, the famous mountain passes in Ladakh are as much a sought after tourist attraction as the monasteries, lakes and gompas. Crossing them is a one of its kind experience, as you are treated to gorgeous views, loads of adventure & exciting memories.

Most of the mountain passes in Ladakh, at one point in time, occupied an important position in the ancient Silk Route. Traders from today's South Asian countries would make a stop there before proceeding further. These passes also connected us to the rest of the world, particularly the countries in Central Asia. For the locals too, the passes still play an important role.

CUISINES

If the landscape of Ladakh is barren and rugged, though beautiful, then its cuisine is rich, colourful, flavoursome & nutritious. Mention the words Ladakhi food though, and most people's answers end with momos & noodle soup.

While those are an essential part of Ladakh's cuisines, there is a wide range of dishes which are varied in their looks, taste & preparation methods. Going to Ladakh & not trying out its amazing sumptuous local food would be a big mistake.

The soil of Ladakh is not particularly conducive to agriculture. It is after all, a vast cold desert, and most of the farmers are dependent on snowmelt water for irrigation. Despite the adverse conditions, the people grow most of their grains & vegetables.

Some of the locally produced vegetables are beetroot, potatoes, beans, pumpkins, barley & beans. Non vegetarian food such as yak meat, mutton & chicken is also greatly enjoyed by the people, although these are mostly limited to the winter season.

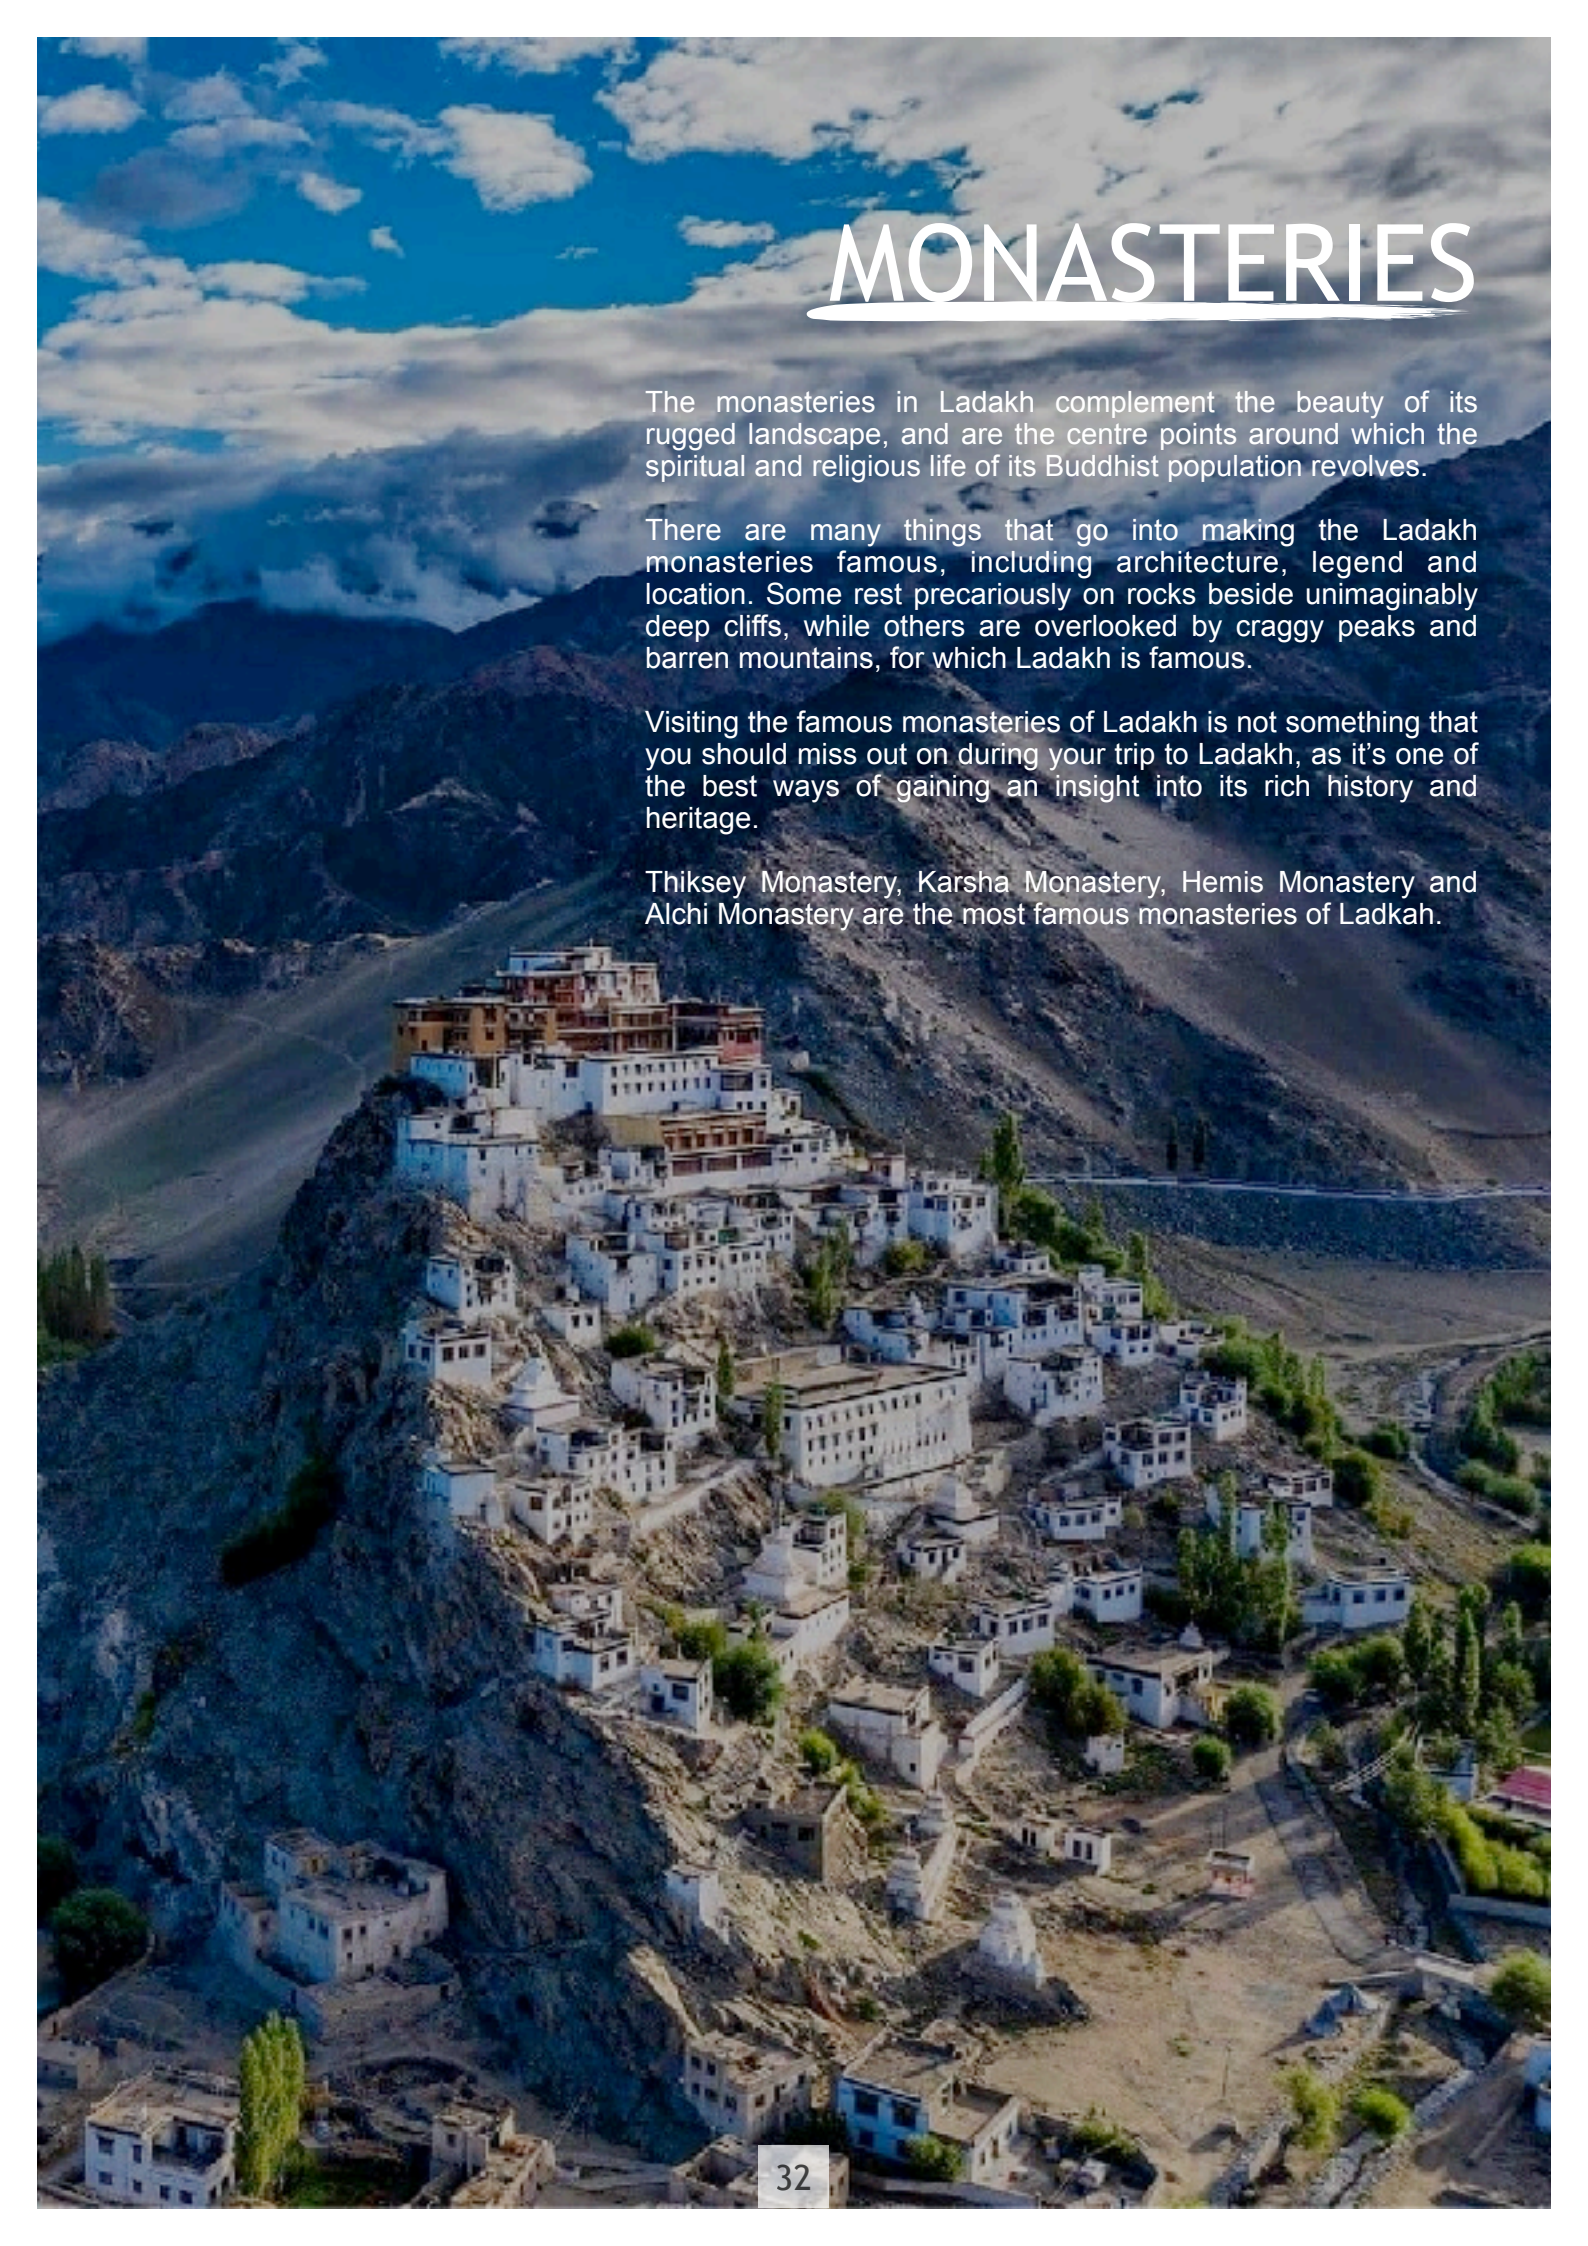

The influence of Tibet on its cuisine, as on its culture, is also quite strong. This is natural, since Ladakh was a stopping point for traders from Tibet, China & Middle East on the Silk Road.

SHOPPING

Going to Ladakh and coming back empty handed is just not done! Holiday Shopping in Ladakh is an experience unlike anywhere else in India. In its bazaars, you come across a variety of items, from souvenirs to handicrafts, that reflect excellent artistic & craftsmanship skills are available in a wide range of options.

From Pashmina shawls to prayer wheels, every item captivates you as much as the other while holiday shopping in Ladakh. Further, there are shops which arouse your curiosity like no other. One example is the Women's Alliance of Ladakh Shopping Hub, set up in 1991 and managed completely by women.

MORE JUNK UPSTAIRS

MONASTERIES

The monasteries in Ladakh complement the beauty of its rugged landscape, and are the centre points around which the spiritual and religious life of its Buddhist population revolves.

There are many things that go into making the Ladakh monasteries famous, including architecture, legend and location. Some rest precariously on rocks beside unimaginably deep cliffs, while others are overlooked by craggy peaks and barren mountains, for which Ladakh is famous.

Visiting the famous monasteries of Ladakh is not something that you should miss out on during your trip to Ladakh, as it's one of the best ways of gaining an insight into its rich history and heritage.

Thiksey Monastery, Karsha Monastery, Hemis Monastery and Alchi Monastery are the most famous monasteries of Ladakh.

HONEYMOON

The combination of romance and thrill on a honeymoon in Ladakh is truly an experience to cherish forever. With an incredible landscape, an interesting vibe, and experiences you can't find anywhere else, Ladakh bids itself as the most promising honeymoon destination in India for romantic couples.

While its true, Ladakh is the first choice for adventure lovers, this Himalayan destination however has some beautiful experiences to impart to honeymoon couples as well. The romantic couples on their first vacation together can enjoy the experience of camping at the serene Pangong Lake under the star-lit sky; they can also relish the beauty of the cold desert of Hunder while camping at remote Hunder Village.

The adventure loving couples can also opt for motor biking on the meandering roads of Ladakh and explore the tiny hamlets, high mountain passes like Khardung La, and alpine lakes like Tso Moriri on them. Jeep safaris are always at the disposal of the honeymooners who can choose to explore Ladakh inside out. For the couples who take interest in exploring the wildlife, Hemis National Park is the best place to visit to sight some native, rare and unique wildlife species.

TREKKING

Ladakh, the land of high passes, monasteries, deep blue lakes, brown mountains, challenging passes & quaint villages, in addition to its Buddhist culture & lifestyle. Go on an adventure trekking tour with our Ladakh trekking tour packages that are available at unbeatable prices & best suited for both amateur & advanced level trekkers.

Unlimited adventure awaits you with adventure filled treks like the Chadar Trek where you cross the frozen Zaskar River, or the Stok Kangri Trek, which offers incredible views of Indus & Zaskar Valleys. Come, join us in a trekking tour to Ladakh at prices & facilities which you won't find anywhere else.

A trekking tour in Ladakh also offers you the wonderful opportunity of observing the unique culture & lifestyle of the Ladakhi people, which is strongly influenced by Buddhism and Tibetan culture.

Listening to the Ladakhi language is a delight, as is enjoying some exotic cuisines like Chutagi, Skew, Paba & others. Some of the famous festivals of Ladakh like Hemis Festival & Sindhu Darshan & Losar, is marked by masked dances called Chham, which fascinates visitors a lot.

MOUNTAIN BIKING

Unarguably, Ladakh is the paradise for mountain bikers. The meandering roads cutting their way through the awe-inspiring scenery is where all the mountain biking inspiration can be found. Cycling in Ladakh is about riding through the rugged trails or along the rushing Indus and Zaskar Rivers or to some high mountain passes like Khardung La.

Mountain Biking in Ladakh is not only about adrenaline rush and facing the challenges, it is also a great way to witness the culture and traditions of varied regions. This adventure activity in Ladakh is also perfect to explore the offbeat Buddhist Monasteries and relishing the lesser-known side of this beautiful Himalayan destination in India.

PEAK CLIMBING

The adventure of peak climbing cannot get any better than in Ladakh. Nestled between the Himalayas, Zaskar, and the Karakoram Ranges, Ladakh is an ultimate base for mountaineers looking for some of the most challenging and adrenaline rushing climbing experiences in the world.

For mountain climbing in Ladakh, there are 7-thousanders and 6-thousanders that keep this adventure activity worth your while. But then, there's also some challenging 5-thousanders which make Ladakh quite an interesting destination for peak climbing.

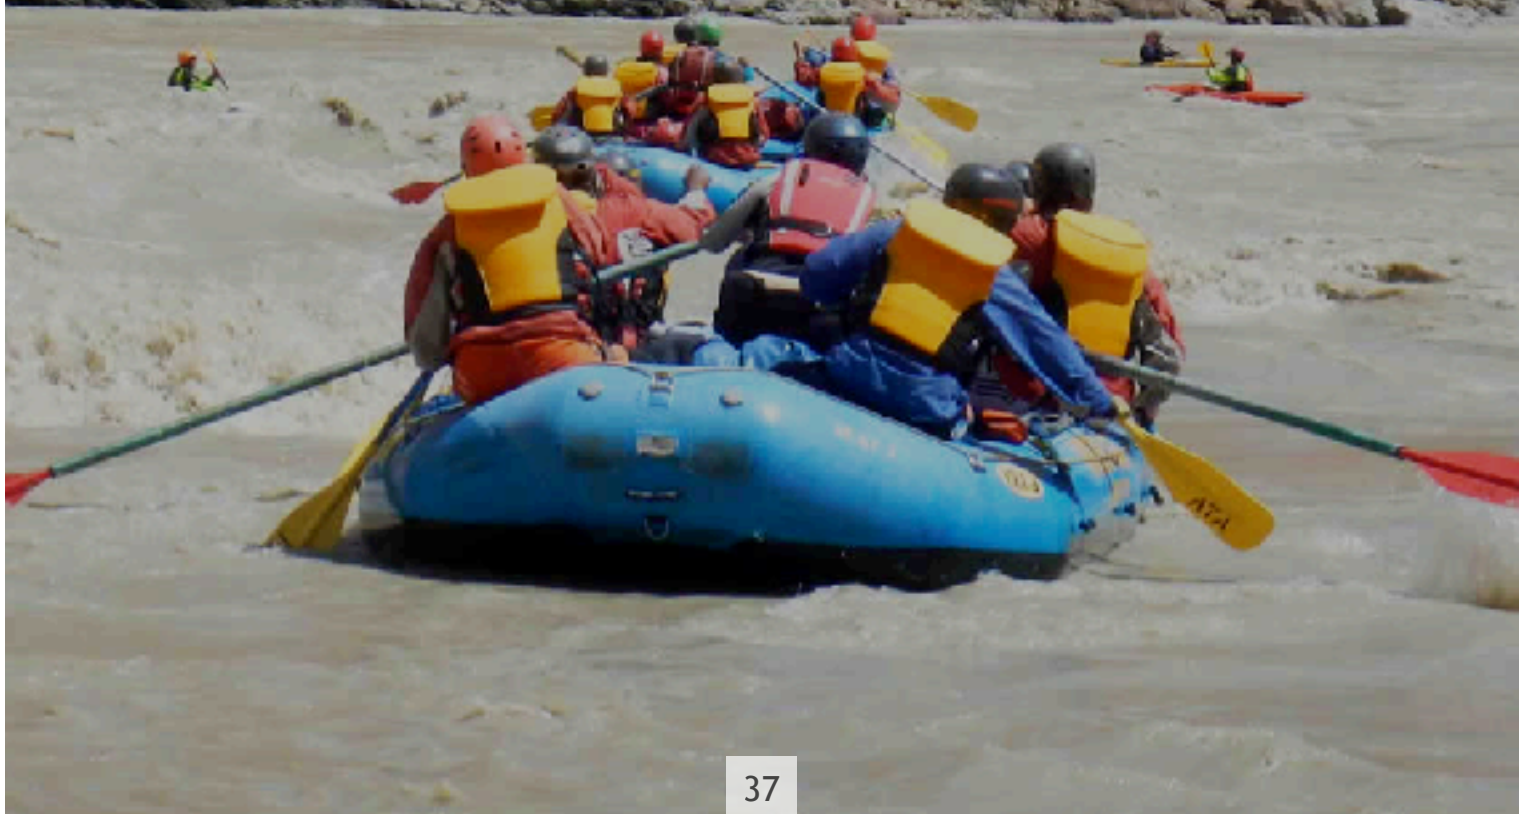

Amongst the most popular peaks in Ladakh are Stok Kangri (6,150m) in Zaskar Range, Nun (7,135m) and Kun (7,077m) in the Himalayan Range, and Saser-I (7,415 m), Saser -II (7,513m) and Saser III (7,495 m) in Karakoram Range.

RIVER RAFTING

GENERAL INFORMATION

Welcome to Ladakh

Leh - Ladakh is the northern province of India which has become a Union Territory on 31 October 2019, covering approximately 60,000 square miles (100,000 sq. km). It has two districts: Kargil and Leh. It is surrounded and bisected by some of the highest mountain ranges in the world. Running in a generally northwest to southeast direction through Ladakh, the great Himalayan Range separates the Vale of Kashmir from Ladakh.

How to reach

Ladakh is called the adventure capital of the country for a genuine reason.

The geographical location of the place makes it an ultimate destination for anyone looking for an adrenaline filled vacation. Ladakh is one of the very few destinations in the world where the excitement starts the moment you begin your travel towards it.

Festivals

Possibly, there is no better time to visit any destination than at the time of its festive season. Similar is the case with Ladakh region. The barren yet intriguing land of Ladakh comes to life during festivals when locals from all the parts of Ladakh come to one place and take part in the celebrations.

Geography

Ladakh is the largest province within the North Indian State of Jammu and Kashmir, covering approximately 60,000 square miles (100,000 sq. km). It is surrounded and bisected by some of the highest mountain ranges in the world.

Religion

The predominant religion in Ladakh is the Tibetan form of Buddhism, although Islamic influences are found from the Kashmir Valley as far as Kargil, and there are some Christian families in Leh.

People

Ladakhis are Tibetan-Mongoloid in appearance although traces of Kashmiri Moslem influence can also be seen. It is most likely that early in its history, Ladakh was settled by the Mon and Dard groups of people.

Best time to visit

The Best time to visit Ladakh is during the summer season from the month of April to July during this time temperature is between 15 to 30 Degree Celsius.

Ladakh is known for its extremely low temperatures almost all through the year. While it is quite pleasant in the summer time, the winters are exceedingly cold unforgiving. Well, in that case, naturally the best time to visit Ladakh is during the summers.

From: US $ 6800 pp

Embark on a nomadic journey in canvas luxury. Unfurl the centuries-old culture of Ladakh, exploring her fascinating monuments, quaint monasteries enriched with ancient art forms, fairs and festivals. Be part of the region's unique rituals - enjoy the ancient sport of Polo, brought to Ladakh in the 17th century by the Royals.

Try your hand at archery set amidst the most dramatic and breath-taking landscape. Raft on the gentle Indus River, stop for a delicious picnic lunch at the most picturesque hamlet. Experience Ladakh in all its splendour at the Chamba Camp, Thiksey (in the Leh Valley).

A land of varying landscapes, from white deserts to blue lakes, ice-capped mountains to lush valleys, Ladakh, like a dream captured in a snow globe, is a wildly beautiful milieu set between the Kunlun Mountains and the Himalayas. Located in a valley just north of the Indus River is Leh, the capital of Ladakh, a region often referred to as 'Little Tibet'. The centuries-old culture of this picturesque capital city finds expression in its monuments, monasteries, oral literature, art forms, fairs and festivals.

Ladakh & Rajasthan

Duration: 14 Nights / 15 Days

Places: Delhi | Leh | Thiksey | Nubra | Thiksey | Leh | Delhi | Agra | Jaipur | Udaipur | Delhi

From: US $ 10100 pp

This tour combines two completely different regions of India; Ladakh in the Himalayas, and Rajasthan India's driest state, each region completely stunning in its own way. Ladakh is both physically and culturally spectacular. Often called Little Tibet due to the great similarities in its people, plateau landscape surrounded by the soaring Himalayas, and its culture and religion, Ladakh is a raw and awe-inspiring ancient land and is home to one of the best-preserved Tantric Buddhist societies in existence. Using Thiksey as a base and staying at the fabulous Chamba Camp, explore the surrounding region with its impressive and ancient monasteries, many populated by communities of Buddhist monks. Spend a day visiting Alchi to see the 900-year-old temples with their beautiful wall paintings and wood sculptures which fortunately survived the Mughal invasion of India.

Next, return to Delhi - The Capital. Continue to Agra, home to the impenetrable Agra Fort and the majestic Taj Mahal, the jewel in the Mughal crown. Continue your journey onto the regal Rajput cities of Jaipur, also known as the Pink City, and the beautiful and tranquil lake city of Udaipur. The contrast between the simplicity and vast landscapes of Ladakh and the colourful opulence of Delhi and Rajasthan will blow you away, and it is what makes this tour so fascinating.

Shakti Ladakh - Village Experience

Duration: 14 Nights / 15 Days

Places: Delhi | Leh | Nimoo | Agyam | Hunder | Egoo | Pangong Tso | Shey | Leh | Delhi

From: US $ 12900 pp

Situated in India's far north, and perched at over 3,500m (11,500ft) on the plateau, Ladakh is often referred to as 'Little Tibet' and is home to one of the best preserved Tantric Buddhist societies in existence. Rugged snow-capped mountains and deep turquoise lakes dot this high-altitude desert making it one of the most otherworldly, picturesque places on earth. Ladakh has long been on the map for backpackers, mostly staying in and around the capital, Leh. However, the Shakti Village Experience avoids the over now-crowded hub of Leh and takes you off the beaten track to unspoiled, traditional villages in the Indus valley.

The best way to experience these villages is a combination of walking, rafting and driving between them while overnighiting in some of the beautifully quaint homestays along the way. Traditional Ladakhi houses are built with sun-baked mud bricks and wooden beams of poplar and willow. For the more active walker, trekking and camping in even more remote and beautiful locations can be arranged. The treks require a reasonable level of fitness and reach altitudes of up to 4,250m (14,000ft). The tented camps provide an atmospheric night under canvas with all the usual service and style of the village houses while enjoying outstanding mountain views and some of the clearest night skies to be found in the world. The Village Experience includes river rafting too.

Big Cats of India & Ladakh

Duration: 20 Nights / 21 Days

Places: Mumbai | Rajkot | Gir Forest National | Delhi | Leh | Ulley | Leh | Delhi | Jaipur | Ranthambore NP | Shahpura Bagh | Jawai | Udaipur | Delhi

From: US $ 19,900 pp

This is the ultimate wildlife adventure in India, a journey through deserts, Himalayan mountains and jungle in search of its iconic cats – Bengal tigers, Indian leopards, Asiatic lions and snow leopards. Begin in the appropriately named Gir Forest National Park in the western state of Gujarat, the last remaining stronghold of the Asiatic lion. Thankfully numbers have increased to over 600 cats and seeing them here is a real privilege. Next, after a stop in Delhi, fly to the far north of India. Spend a few days acclimatising to the altitude in beautiful Leh, where you'll get to explore the town and beautiful Buddhist temples that dot the Indus Valley. Then venture high into the mountains to a remote lodge for a week in search of perhaps the most elusive of all cats, the snow leopard. Seeing this incredible animal is by no means assured (which is all part of the adventure), but with the lodge's team of expert spotters and utterly breath-taking surroundings, there are few finer places from which to try. Return south to the famous Ranthambore National Park for three nights in a sumptuous luxury safari lodge. Drive across Rajasthan, with an overnight stop at a charming family palace on the way, for a final three nights at JAWAI, another fine conservation focused camp surrounded by wilderness which is one of our favourite places in the country to see Indian leopards.

Eternal Ladakh, Zaskar & Kashmir

WEDDING & EVENTS

Who thought a destination wedding would be possible in the paradise on Earth?

Yes! We are talking about the most beautiful place in India, Ladakh. There are still people out there who have been planning a trip to Ladakh and couldn't make it but a couple recently got married in Ladakh. And, we can't stop but imagine how amazing it would have been.

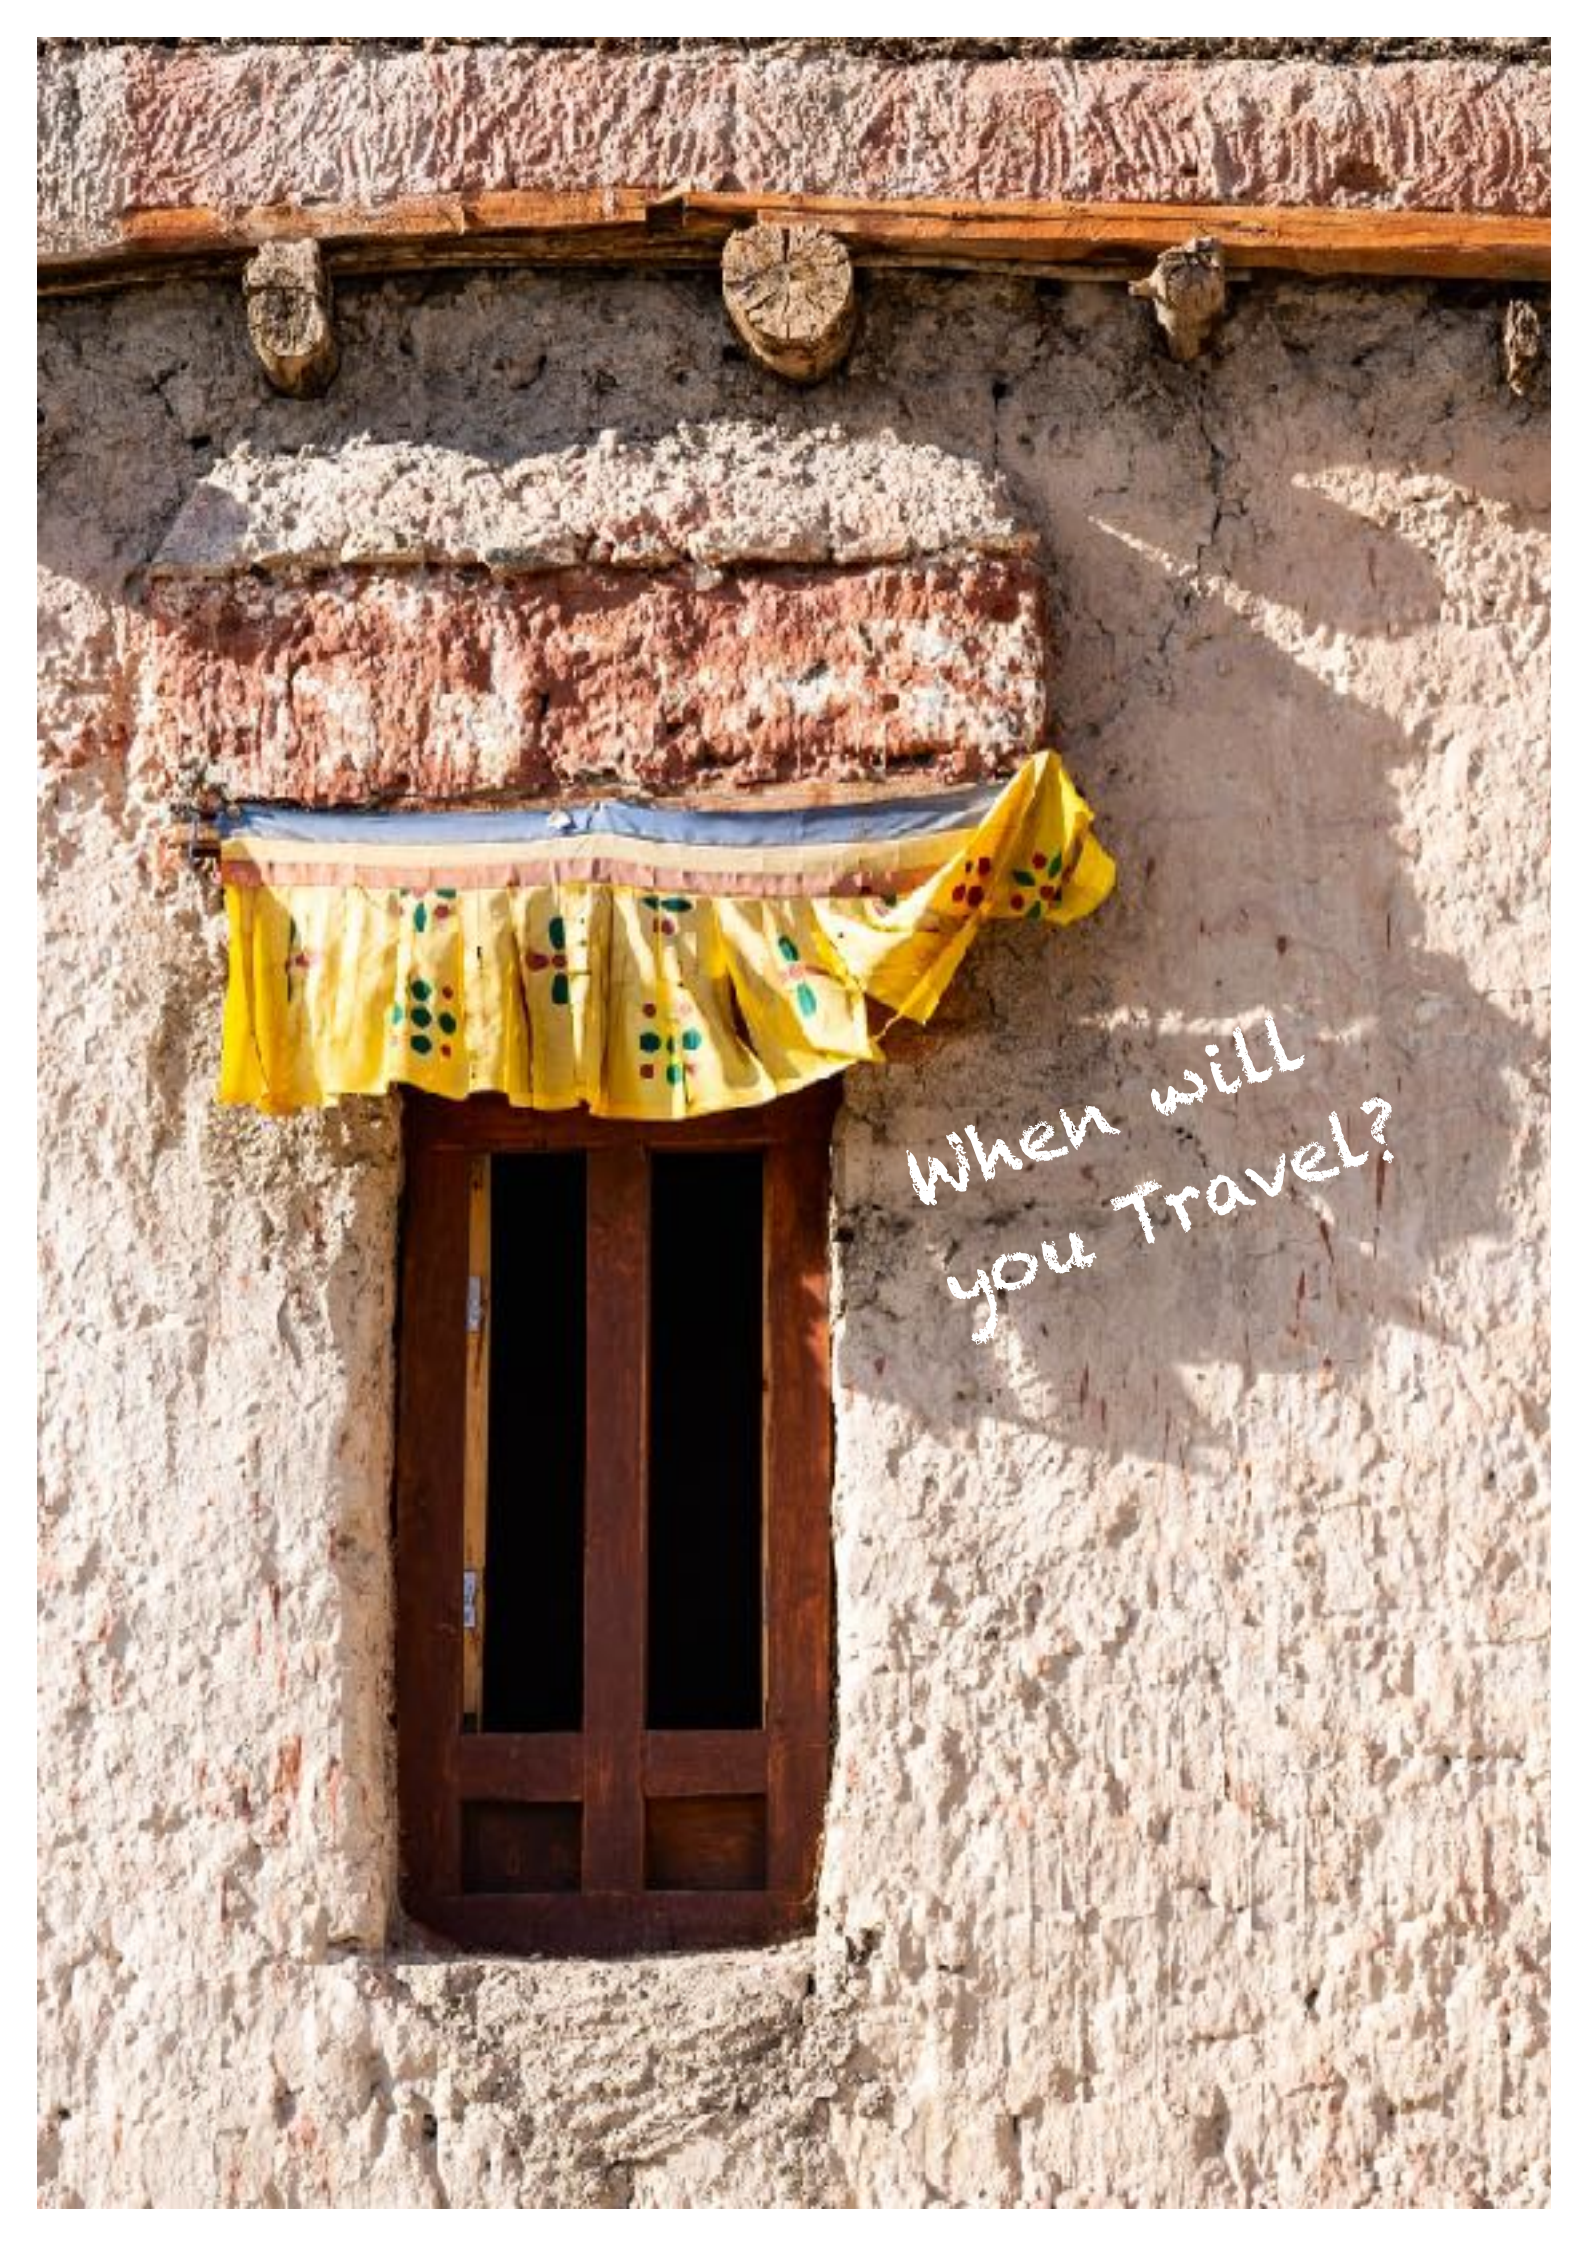

The marriage celebration usually lasts all night, beginning in the late evening when the village families arrive, each bringing food for the wedding feast. During the night-long celebration, the groom will often dance and certainly drink chang, while the bride is expected to remain sitting, often in the kitchen. The bride and groom are both presented with ceremonial khatas and sums of money.

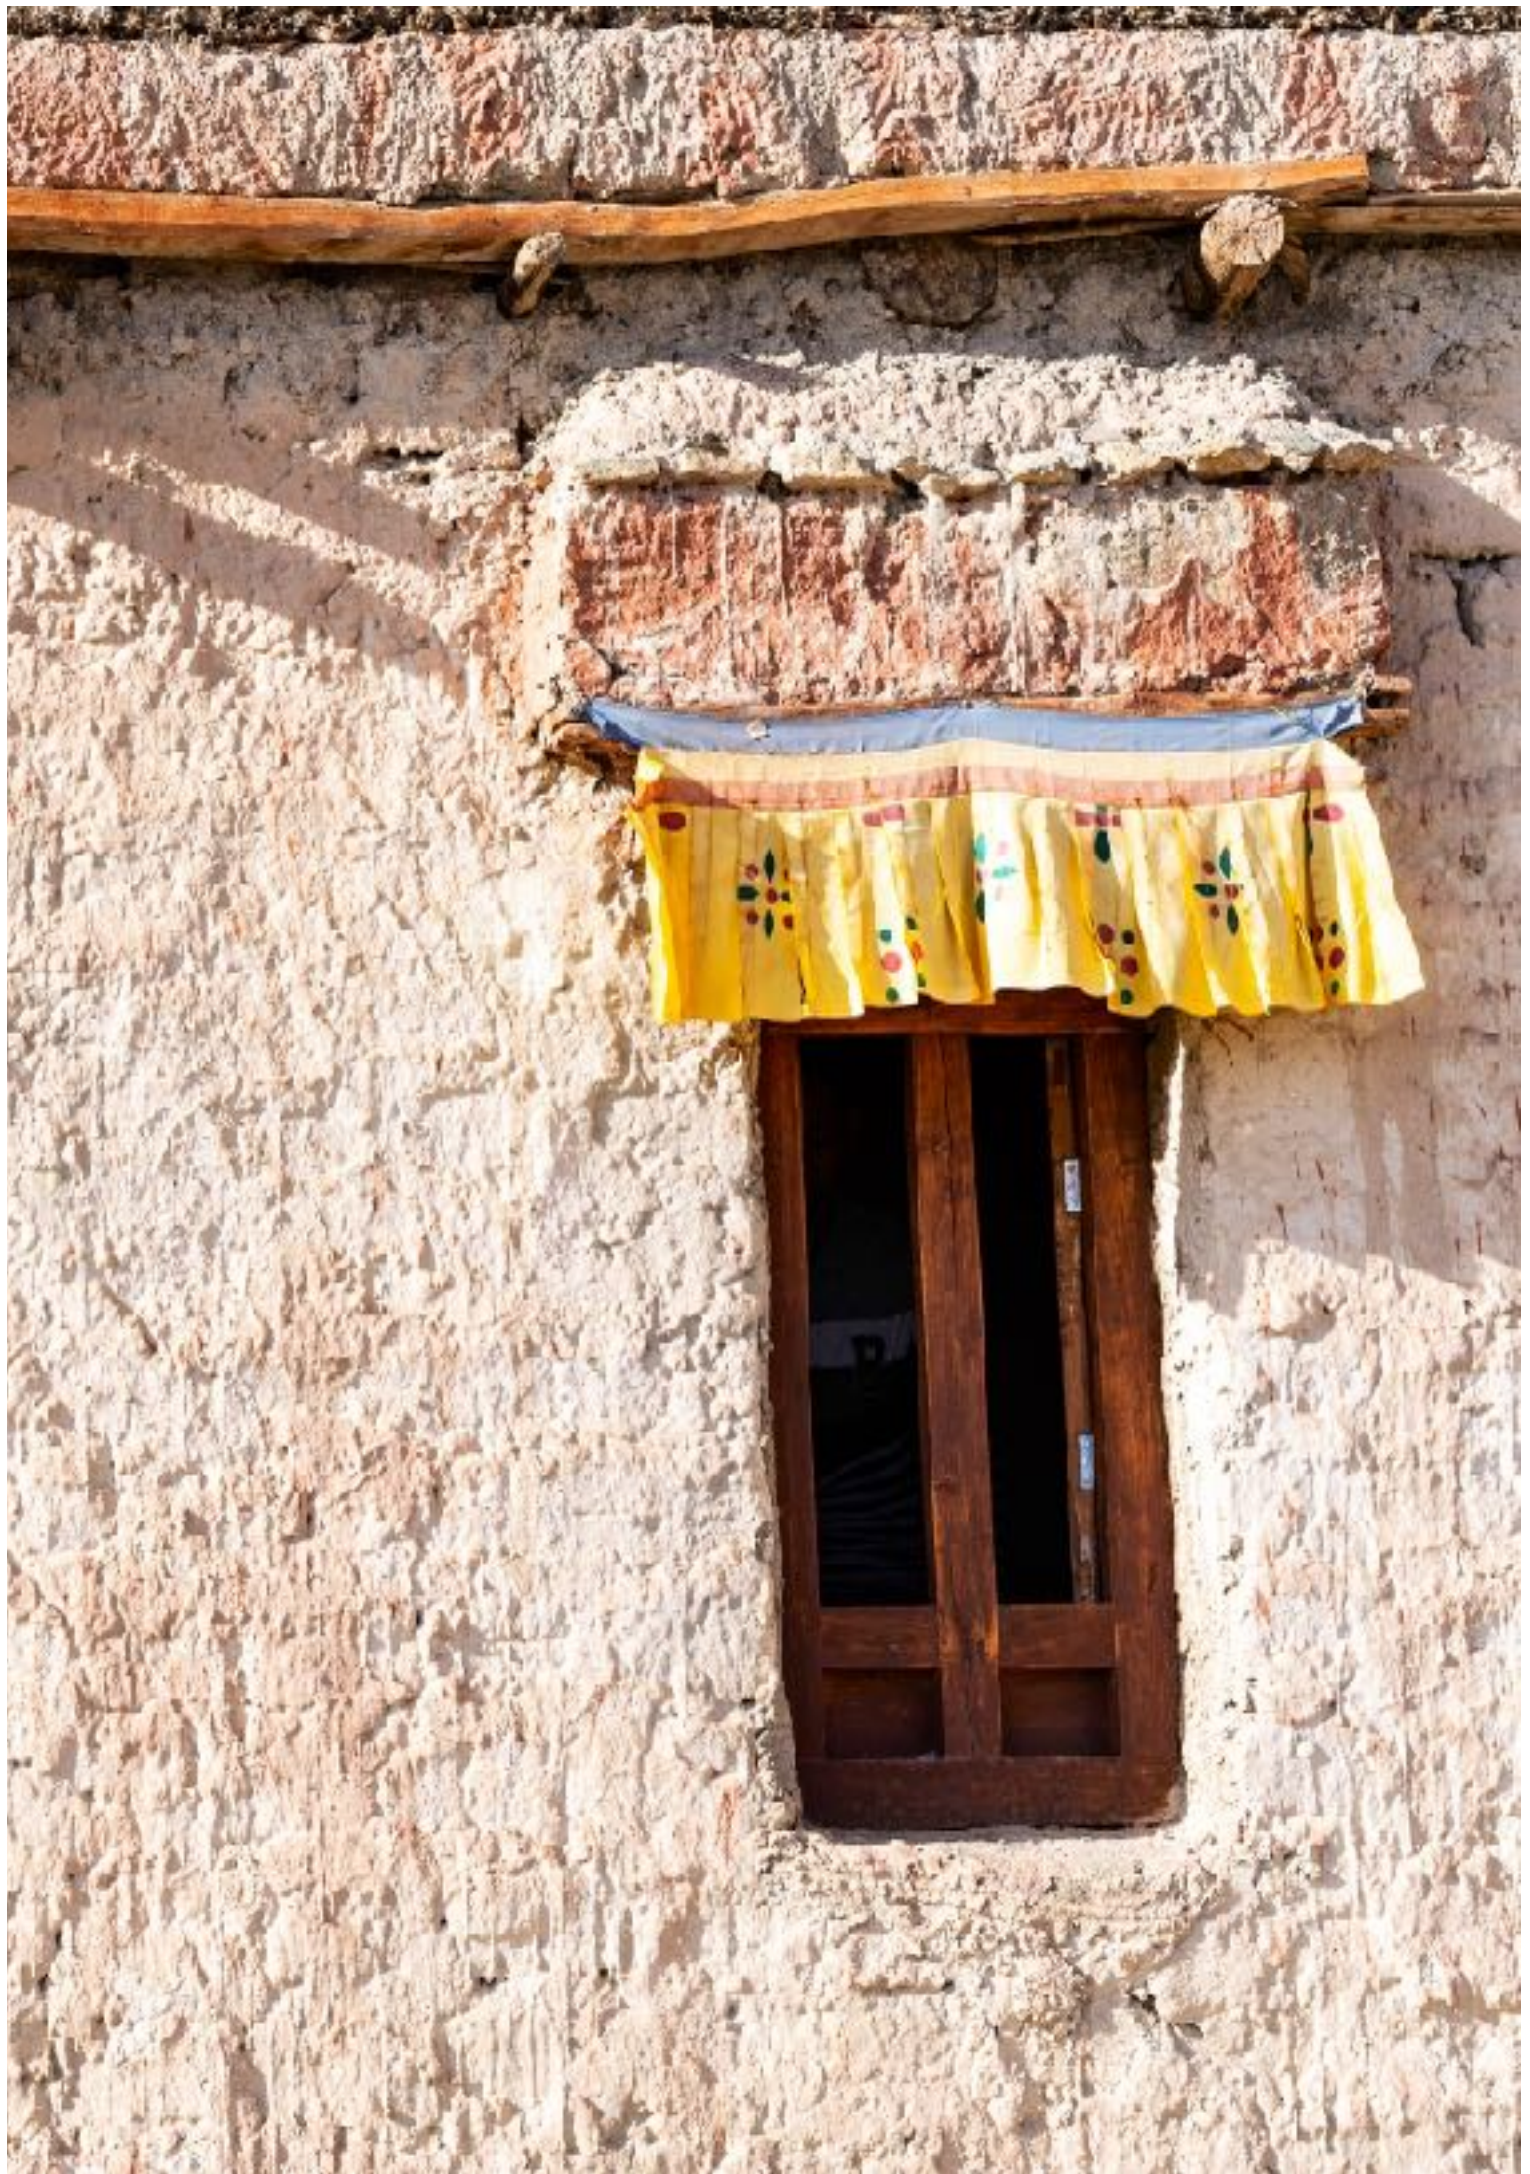

Toward sunrise, the bride is led to the groom's family home where she is met by lamas and her new family. In the ensuing ceremony, the bride initially refuses food until she is led from her father to her new husband, with whom she then shares a meal. The bride is then shown the house and by sunrise, the ceremony is complete. The celebration, however, will continue much longer with music, food and chang.

A photograph of a rustic stone wall. A wooden window frame is set into the wall, featuring a dark brown frame with a grid pattern. Above the window is a yellow awning with a floral pattern in green and red. The wall is made of rough, light-colored stone. A wooden beam runs horizontally across the top of the wall, supported by several wooden brackets. The text "When will you Travel?" is written in a white, handwritten font on the right side of the wall.

When will you Travel?
