SINGAPORE

IT ALL STARTS WITH NI HAO

Singapore's bustling economy and vibrant cultural landscape make it one of the most alluring places to visit in Asia.

Singapore is located at the tip of the Malay Peninsula and is the multicultural home of ethnic Chinese, Malays, Indians, Arabs and Eurasians, as well as expatriates from all over the world. It is one of the few remaining city-states on Earth, and the smallest country in Southeast Asia, yet its small size encapsulates an economic powerhouse.

Since its independence from England in 1963 and Malaysia in 1965, Singapore has become a financial nexus of Southeast Asia.

The nation's unique blend of culture, art, cuisine, commerce and architecture draw visitors from all over the world. Within Asia, this prosperous country is a go-to for world-class shopping, dining and entertainment.

You'll see towering skyscrapers, their gleaming exteriors hiding the next great technological breakthrough.

Take in a visit to the National Orchid Garden, a lush oasis boasting a colorful display of 60,000 of these exotic flowers, to understand why Singapore is known as "The Garden City."

THE RITZ-CARLTON, MILLENIA

The lobby will make you feel like you're in the Crystal Palace at the 1851 World's Fair and the rooms are luxurious in an old school sort of way.

If you're a fan of classic pampering it doesn't get better than this: a plush room with the country's most iconic view of Marina Bay (and the Sands' nightly light show), and the convenience of being connected to one of Singapore's prime tourist areas.

There's even a direct linkway to the Millenia Walk mall.

MARINA BAY SANDS

Cavernous, slightly chaotic, and nearly always crowded—this isn't just a hotel. It's a destination unto itself. You're in one of the country's most Instagrammed hotspots.

The world's largest rooftop infinity pool is on the 57th floor and open only to hotel guests. It's so social media-worthy that non-guests have tried sneaking into the area just to steal a shot.

The property also has a bunch of restaurants by celebrity chefs that are among Singapore's best, and it has the city's poshest casino.

RAFFLES SINGAPORE

It can't be easy being a living legend, a global icon, an object of universal reverence. What happens when, eventually, you have to renovate and possibly even change?

In the case of Raffles Singapore, you do so in a way that appears effortless and natural. The good news at this 133-year-old classic is that all that was irreplaceable has been preserved, down to the wicker chairs and ceiling fans that provide so much ambience.

THE ST. REGIS SINGAPORE

In a neighborhood of modern, glass-paneled apartment blocks, the St. Regis stands out with its fleet of imposing bronze Bentley limousines parked outside.

It's all unapologetically decadent: butler service is available at the push of a button, the rooms are positively palatial, and the hotel's award-winning spa is consistently voted among Singapore's best.

INTERCONTINENTAL

You'd expect an international luxury brand to be in the mainstream tourist area or central business district, but this busy InterContinental—in the heart of Singapore's Malay-influenced Kampong Glam neighborhood—is where the locals hang.

A close connection to the rich Malay and Peranakan cultures influences much of the design here. The sumptuous lobby lounge is a popular place for high tea.

But for a suitably Peranakan treat, head to the no-frills HarriAnns Nonya Table in the adjoining mall for awesome kueh.

CROWNE PLAZA CHANGI

Stay at the World's Best Airport Hotel at Singapore Changi Airport and discover Jewel.

Step off your flight into the resort ambiance of Crowne Plaza Changi Airport, located at Terminal 3 and seamlessly connected to all airport terminals and Jewel, a tropical wonderland where nature meets retail, just next to the hotel. Simply take the skytrain or link bridge from your terminal directly to our door.

THE FULLERTON HOTEL

This Neoclassical grand dame is stately yet buzzy. There's constant traffic in the lobby area—it's a popular meeting spot for execs from the surrounding business district, and a regular stop for tourists on the heritage trail (the hotel has been gazetted a national monument).

No other hotel in Singapore has a heritage so linked to the country's modern history. Previously called Fullerton Building, it was once the General Post Office and housed various government agencies before it was turned into a hotel in 2001.

PAN PACIFIC SINGAPORE

Situated on Singapore's stunning Marina Bay, where by day the deep blue waters of the South China Sea sparkle, and by night the bright lights of the skyscrapers illuminate a dazzling downtown flush with historic landmarks and architectural marvels, chic Pan Pacific Singapore promises a stylish stay in one of the Lion City's most vibrant districts.

With so much food at your fingertips — room service is also available 24 hours a day — you might feel the need to burn a few calories during your stay. Facilities at the luxury Singapore hotel include a round-the-clock fitness center, two tennis courts and the fully equipped St. Gregory spa.

FOUR SEASONS HOTEL

Situated along tranquil, tree-lined Orchard Boulevard, Four Seasons Singapore invites you to their 225 newly renovated rooms, including four Asian inspired themed suites!

From families to business travellers, expect to bask in plush interiors and plenty of natural light via floor-to-ceiling windows.

Spend your afternoon lounging by the rooftop pool on the 20th floor, which offers panoramic views of the city skyline.

FAIRMONT SINGAPORE

Ultra cosmopolitan, highly cultured and incredibly varied, Singapore has long been regaled as one of Asia's most multi-faceted cities, and no place showcases that more than Fairmont Singapore, located in the City Hall district right above the Raffles City mall.

The lobby features a large white bubble chandelier that encompasses nearly half of the ceiling, and the check-in desk is illuminated by a large and colorful abstract painting. There's also a peaceful bubbling waterfall and a small flower garden off the entrance for a touch of Zen.

JW MARRIOTT HOTEL

Sophisticated luxury awaits you at JW Marriott Singapore South Beach, a 5-star accommodation located near Suntec City. Contemporary architecture meets restored heritage at this property, which brings together three heritage buildings and two new ones! This Singapore luxury hotel offers 634 spacious rooms decked in artful decor and marble bathrooms, complete with impeccable city views.

The rooftop pool pavilion is a great spot to cool off during Singapore's steamiest weather, and has stunning views of the city's signature Ferris wheel.

SO SOFTEL SINGAPORE

This is a business-first hotel, but for foodies, what makes a stay here memorable is the location—a couple of Singapore's best bars and hawker centers are within walking distance, as are rows of heritage shophouses and residential HDB blocks.

The Tanjong Pagar train station is literally right below the hotel if you need to get around town. Brand new rooms and a minibar that gets refilled by droid butler (no joke) make it a sleeper pick.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Welcome to Singapore

Best described as a microcosm of modern Asia, Singapore is a melting pot of culture and history, and an extravaganza of culinary delights. Officially known as the Republic of Singapore, it is both a city and a country located in Southeast Asia. One of Asia's most visited destinations, Singapore is best described as an amalgam of a fast-paced life and an off-the-back-street inheritance.

Singapore is the quintessential cosmopolitan, having the highest religious diversity in any country. Spread 42 km (26 miles) east to west and 23 km (14 miles) north to south, today it boasts of the world's busiest port. Singapore has climbed to be one of Asia's hit-list destinations with its efficient and widespread transport system - whizzing in this country is just a matter of minutes!

Climate

Due to its geographical location and maritime exposure, Singapore's climate is characterised by uniform temperature and pressure, high humidity and abundant rainfall. The average temperature is between 25 degrees Celsius and 31 degrees Celsius. Thunderstorms occur on 40% of all days. Relative humidity is in the range of 70% – 80%. April is the warmest month, January is the coolest month and November is the wettest month.

Currency

The Singapore dollar is the official currency of Singapore. Normally abbreviated with the dollar sign $ or S$ to distinguish it from other dollar-denominated currencies, it is divided into 100 cents. The issuance of banknotes and coins of the Singapore dollar lies with the Monetary Authority of Singapore.

Population

The population of Singapore is diverse, the result of considerable past immigration. Chinese predominate, making up some three-fourths of the total. Malays are the next largest ethnic group, and Indians the third. None of those three major communities is homogeneous.

Language

The national language of Singapore is Malay while English, Malay, Mandarin Chinese, and Tamil are the four official languages in Singapore. English is the most widely spoken language (primarily by the population below the age of 50), and the medium of instructions in school. English is also the language of business and government in Singapore, based on British English. A unique and widely spoken language in Singapore is the Singlish.

Religion

Religious affiliations reflect ethnic patterns. About two-thirds of all Chinese profess some degree of attachment to Confucianism, Buddhism, or Daoism or to some combination thereof. Virtually all Malays, and some Indians, adhere to Islam, which is the formal religion of about one-seventh of the population.

The Christian community has grown rapidly to become comparable in size to the Muslim population; nearly all Christians are Chinese. Almost all of the remaining population practicing a religion is Hindu, but there are also many Singaporeans who have no religious affiliation.
